AMERICANS WALK OUT

GIRL DISCOVERS WAY TO ENJOY AUTUMN

Take a leaky wooden spigot in the bunghole of a cider barrel, add an ingenious little girl and you have a lazy way of enjoying apple cider on a pleasant autumn afternoon. Debbie Ritchie, a Girl Scout Brownie from Masonville, N.J., was visiting a farm. She was sampling apples and the treats on the farm when she spied the dripping cider.

Cuban's U. N. Talk Boycotted

. . . FIRST TIME U.S. DOES IT

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. delegation walked out on Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa Friday to show disdain for a speech in which he denounced U.S. policy in Viet Nam and demanded independence for Puerto Rico.

It was the first time the United States had boycotted a General Assembly speech, delegation sources said.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg came back later to deride Roa for the flight of Cubans from their native land — including 23,000 who have sought refuge in the commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Crocodile Tears

Goldberg said the United States found "unusually bizarre his crocodile tears about the commonwealth of Puerto Rico."

"We do not see any exodus of Puerto Ricans to Cuba," Goldberg observed. "We do see over 270,000 Cubans who have fled to the United States and many, many more Cubans who are awaiting desperately for the chance to leave."

Goldberg added that the Puerto Ricans have taken advantage of repeated opportunities for free elections to exercise their right to self-determination.

"By contrast, despite repeated promises by Fidel Castro, Cuba has yet to have a free election since he came to power," he said.

He said Roa's statement on Viet Nam, "supported by a disciplined claque in the Gallery, is just about what we would expect from the representative of Cuba, and does not merit a detailed reply."

Scattered Clapping

Roa received scattered applause from a small group in the public gallery, and also some from the Soviet bloc and Albania. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko shook Roa's hand as he came to the rostrum.

Goldberg said the assembly was aware that "fighting continues only because Hanoi will neither halt its aggression, nor agree to negotiate."

Roa studded his speech with denunciations of the U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic, which he said proved to the world the failure of U.S.policy in Latin America.

"Asia, Africa and Latin America are boiling, and Yankee imperialism is impotent to stop the people," he said.

Backs China Entry

He supported admission of Communist China and the expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists, referring to the latter as "ventriloquist's dummies of Yankee imperialism."

The 117-nation assembly wound up its general policy debate late Friday after hearing a record of 101 speakers. The debate opened Sept.23.

Roa asserted that U.S. policy in Viet Nam has imitated that of the Nazis, and that the only way the United Nations could contribute to a peaceful solution was to support the demands of the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost walked out of the hall as Roa went to the rostrum. The only person remaining at the U.S.delegation desk was Mrs. Kirsten Paulos, a foreign affairs officer in the permanent U.S. mission to the United Nations She took notes on Roa's speech.

Anti-Viet Nam War Marchers Halted

By United Press International

A force of 400 riot-ready police and a "hostile" crowd of onlookers Friday night turned back a march by several thousand demonstrators against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

The demonstrators paraded a mile through Berkeley but turned back near the Oakland city limits where 400 night stick-armed Oakland officers were lined up in riot formation.

Between the police and the demonstrators a crowd of about 1,000 persons, described by Berkeley police as "hostile" to the demonstrators, was milling around.

To Army Base

The marchers had been headed for the Oakland Army base, 7½ miles from the campus. The Viet Nam Day Committee, which organized the demonstration, planned to hold an all-night rally there. A spokesman said it would be held in Berkeley instead.

City officials of both Berkeley and Oakland had refused permission for the parade, but no effort was made to stop it until it reached the Oakland line.

Raw eggs were showered from an upper floor of Roosevelt University onto Chicago's Michigan Avenue as rival groups of students and professors marched on the sidewalk. The pro and con forces scuffled over a picket sign.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., 38 persons, including six women, a professor of sociology and four University of Michigan teachers, were arrested for conducting a demonstration at Selective Service headquarters.

Float Ripped Up

A crowd estimated at 200 ripped apart a float depicting opposition to the war. The float had been damaged earlier and then repaired for the University of Michigan homecoming parade when it was attacked.

The attackers tore an American flag from the float and stamped on it.

One demonstrator at New York's Armed Forces Induction Center burned what he said was his draft card. As the flames consumed the card, other demonstrators cheered.

U.S. Agents

Federal agents were reported to have circulated among the New York demonstrators, ready to act if any protester destroyed his draft card.

The National Coordinating Committee To End the War in Viet Nam said protest demonstrations were staged Friday or planned for Saturday and Sunday in more than 100 cities from New England to Hawaii.

Counter demonstrations were mounted in some cities and criticism of the pacifist protests was voiced in many quarters.

The State Department said "noisy demonstrations" against U.S. policy in Southeast Asia reflected only "an infinitesimal fraction" of American public opinion. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, former ambassador to Viet Nam, told a news conference in Chicago the demonstrations give North Viet Nam "a ray of hope." Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called them "terrible."

Omaha Girl Is Homecoming Queen

An Omaha coed, Candace May, was revealed Friday evening as the University of Nebraska's 1965 Homecoming Queen.

Miss May, a junior in Teachers College majoring in speech, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Arnold May of 6405 Country Squire Lane in Omaha.

A transfer student from the University of Omaha, she has been active in Junior Panhellenic, student senate associates, and the Masters Program. She was a member of the intercollegiate debate squad, Masquer's Workers and won an outstanding actress award in University experimental theater. She is a student assistant in the Selleck Quadrangle Residence Hall at the University of Nebraska.

Marcia Melichar, attendant to the queen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Melichar of Pleasant Dale. Marcia is majoring in home economics education and is a student assistant in Burr East Resident Hall.

Bonnie Brown, attendant to the queen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Madsen of Superior. Bonnie is majoring in journalism and is a representative of Chi Omega sorority.

Miss May and her court reigned over the Homecoming Dance Friday evening in Pershing Auditorium and will be presented at halftime ceremonies during the Colorado-Nebraska football game in Memorial Stadium Oct. 23. She also will participate in numerous public appearances during Homecoming Week at the University.

School Dairy Cost To Equal Retailers'

. . . UNDER FAIR TRADE LAW

Dairy wholesalers will be forced to sell their products to schools and other non-profit institutions at the same price offered other retailers under a bill passed by the 1965 Legislature, State Agriculture Department officials disclosed Friday.

Officials noted that the bill contains no exemption for non-profit organizations from its provisions prohibiting discrimination in price between purchasers and sale of dairy products at below cost.

They could not say whether the bill, which becomes effective Nov. 18. will force an increase in milk prices to schools, but they said prices of some other dairy products probably will be increased.

Meeting Disclosure

The disclosure came at a meeting of Agriculture Department personnel and processors, distributors and retailers of dairy products.

Chicago attorney Richard Johnston of the National Dairy Products Corporation said the failure to include an exemption for non-profit groups "apparently was an oversight."

He said fair trade practices acts in most other states contain such exemptions.

The bill, LB161, chiefly sponsored by Sen. J.W.Burbach of Crofton and strongly supported by the Nebraska Dairy Industries Association, received 33-10 legislative approval in July.

Division Created

The bill created a division of dairy trade practices for enforcement purposes. and officials of the new division presented their interpretations of the bill's provisions at Friday's session.

They conceded that the bill left many questions unanswered and that court suits and future legislative amendments will be required to resolve many of the problems.

Leon W. Murphy, who will head the new division asked for full cooperation from the dairy industry.

"There's a lot of things wrong with this bill, but it's our job to enforce it," he said. "We will be fair but stern."

Murphy said division inspectors will check dairy prices and practices but the division will take no disciplinary action unless a complaint is lodged by a member of the industry.

The bill authorized the division to file damage suits against alleged violators and levy fines of between $500 and $10,000.

Two-Day Hospital Meet Over

Hospital administrators and assistants explained accreditation criteria in five divisions and answered questions of hospital staff and governing board members who expressed interest in meeting eligibility requirements for medicare.

Nine affiliated state organizations also held meetings coordinated with the hospital association, including medical technologists, hospital accountants, nurse anesthetists, physical therapists, hospital pharmacists, occupational therapists, chaplains and hospital auxiliaries.

Officers elected at the Nebraska Conference Catholic Hospital Assn. meeting were Sister Frances Anne of Lincoln, president; Sister Edwardine of Loup City, president-elect; Sister Margaret Anne of Lincoln, secretary treasurer. Elected to the board were Sister Edwardine of Kearney, William P. Ryan and James S. J. Quinn, both of Omaha.

Higher Telephone Rate Requests Turned Down

The State Railway Commission denied Friday the applications of Nebraska's two largest telephone companies for an increase in certain intrastate telephone rates.

The applications were submitted by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. of Omaha and the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Lincoln.

Rejected were proposals to:

—increase person-to-person rates to double the station-to-station rates. Person-to-person rates are now 70% higher.

Sunday Calls

—discontinue reduced person-to-person rates for night and Sunday calls.

Last summer the commission had authorized the rate increase, but withdrew that part of its order. The original proposal came only from Northwestern Bell.

In its latest order, the commission said the certain rate reductions authorized last summer to become effective Oct. 19 will now go into effect Nov. 21.

The approved changes would:

—specify that "after nine" rates apply after 8 p.m. rather than 9 p.m.

—apply the new "after eight" rate all day Sunday.

—provide that evening rates be charged between 6 and 8 p.m. as well as all day Saturday.

—provide that station-to-station overtime rates apply on person-to-person messages starting with the fourth overtime minute rather than the eighth minute.

The changes requested by the companies were aimed at making direct distant dialing more attractive to subscribers.

The commission action, according to a spokesman, approved all proposals to decrease rates but denied those to increase rates.

Boy Injured Fighting Fire

A fast burning garage fire late Friday night burned a 17-year-old youth, destroyed the garage and did considerable damage to a home occupied by Jim Steele at 2843 Starr.

The lad was apparently burned when he tried to put out the fire with a hose. The boy saw the fire from a nearby window in his home and rushed out to try to extinguish it. The terriffic heat from the flames seared the boy's face and arms. He was treated at Lincoln General Hospital and released.

Cause of the fire, which attracted several hundred neighborhood onlookers, was believed to be spontaneous combustion firemen said.

The entire garage was destroyed in a matter of minutes. Firemen said it was one of the hottest burning fires they had handled. The heat of the fire started the nearby house on fire.

Prelates Say All Jews Cannot Be Held Guilty

. . . FOR CHRIST'S CRUCIFIXION

Vatican City (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council accepted Friday an historic declaration aimed at ending 2,000 years of discord between Catholic and Jew. It says all Jews cannot be blamed for Christ's crucifixion.

The Bishops of Roman Catholicism approved the document 7 to 1. It also praises the spiritual values of other non-Christian religions and rejects all discrimination — especially anti-Semitism.

By a final vote of 1,763 to 250 the bishops accepted the declaration — entitled "On the Church's Attitude toward Non-Christians" — for promulgation by Pope Paul VI as a church decree binding on all the world's Roman Catholics.

Although the specific mention of "deicide" (God-killing) was deleted from the version given final endorsement Friday, the document still speaks out against any description of the Jewish people as "rejected by God or accursed."

Never before has any general council in 20 centuries of Catholicism taken such positive stands on the Jewish and other non-Christian religions.

Respect, Reproach

Historic, too, are its words of respect for the beliefs of Moslems, Hindus, Buddhists and other non-Christians and its reproach of any discrimination because of race, color, condition in life or religion as "foreign to the mind of Christ."

The declaration takes passing note of the Crusades against Islam in the Middle Ages by saying that over the centuries "quarrels and hostilities have arisen between Christians and Moslems." It urges that the past be forgotten and that "mutual understanding" move forward.

Opponents apparently included about 100 or 120 Italian and Latin American conservative prelates and Arab-land patriarchs and bishops who have long been against the Jewish section of the document. An estimated 70 to 90 progressive bishops who had argued for leaving in "deicide," as it was in an earlier draft, also apparently put their votes on the negative side.

On the question of the word "deicide," settled in a specific vote before the final balloting, the breakdown was 1,821 in favor of the revised text omitting the word and 245 against.

Many progressives from Europe and the United States felt the text appeared weaker by leaving out the term "deicide."

The amended version given final approval said: "The Jews should not be presented as rejected by God or accursed, as if this follows from holy scriptures."

The declaration also says: "Although the Jewish authorities (of Christ's day) and those who followed their lead pressed for the death of Christ (John 19:6) nevertheless what happened to Christ in His passion cannot be attributed to all Jews, without distinction, then alive, nor to the Jews of today."

Protestant, Jew Praise Action

New York (AP) — The Vatican Council's approval of a declaration affirming Christian ties with Judaism and repudiating anti-Semitism was hailed Friday by leaders of Protestant and Jewish groups but both indicated there was some feeling that the statement should have gone further.

Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, of Indianapolis, president of the National Council of churches, said the council has "added its voice to those of other Christians who have deplored anti-Semitism as unwarranted and un-Christian.

"The fact that the council's statement did not say everything that everyone might have desired, should not be permitted to overshadow the sweeping importance of the declaration as voted."

Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee, said the Vatican Council's adoption of the declaration on Jews was an "act of justice long overdue."

But he added "we regret keenly some of the assertions in the declaration, especially those that might give rise to misunderstandings."

COMSAT Head

The Communications Satellite Corp. board Friday elected James McCormack, 54, to head the fast-growing agency. The Louisiana-born Irish Baptist is a retired Air Force major general, Rhodes scholar, vice president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and chairman of Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority. He will succeed Leo D. Welch in the $125,000-a-year post Dec 1.

Russian Awarded Nobel Book Prize

Sholokhov

Russians were quick to hail the choice of Sholokhov, 60-year-old author of "And Quiet Flows the Don" and other works about his Don River Valley homeland. The official news agency Tass flashed the news throughout the Soviet Union, and the president of the Russian Writers Union hailed Sholokhov as "the best writer in the Soviet Union."

From the initial Russian reaction it was obvious that the author would go to Stockholm Dec. 10 to receive his gold medal and the prize of $56,400. In 1958 the late Boris Pasternak was elected for the literature prize but was forced to reject it when Communist critics charged the Swedish Academy of Letters was a "Western tool" for basing the award on the novel "Dr. Zhivago," that had been banned in Russia.

While the Russians proclaimed Sholokhov's selection, it appeared that the choice was not unanimous in Stockholm. The 18 members of the Swedish academy were reported to have been divided between Sholokhov and exiled Guatemalan writer Miguel Angel Asturias

The report seemed to be borne out by the manner of the announcement made by Karl Ragnar Gierow, permanent secretary of the academy After announcing Sholokhov's selection in a low voice, Gierow whirled and left the room, closing the door behind him and shutting off reporters from their usual opportunity to ask questions about the prize decision.

There was speculation that the judges chose Sholokhov, at least partially, to restore the prestige of the prize with the Soviets.

Except for Pasternak and Sholokhov the only Russian author to win the literature prize was the exiled Ivan Bunin, who was honored in 1933.

The Kuzilkomuch state farm chairman gave the author the news in a cable from the Tass office in Stockholm.

"He did not express amazement, but he looked happy," the chairman told Western newsmen in Moscow by telephone. "He made no comment"

Sholokhov was a good friend of the ousted Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who had called him his favortie writer.

Vietnamese Ignore Red Strike Call

Saigon (UPI) — The people of South Viet Nam dealt a stunning blow to the communists Friday by disregarding a Viet Cong call for an hour-long nationwide strike.

Men, women and children flocked as usual to markets, schools and places of business at the time called for the strike — 11 a.m. to noon —came and went without incident.

U.S. embassy officials who kept a close tab on everyday activities in the towns and cities of South Viet Nam said the communist bid for an outpouring of popular support was "a total fiasco."

The strike call was the first the communists have made to prove their boast that the majority of the Vietnamese people stand behind them.

The failure of the strike was regarded by some observers as the closest thing to an election ever offered to the Vietnamese public during the 20-year struggle with the communists.

Officials wondered why the communists had put their prestige on the line so recklessly.

LBJ Catnaps; 'Johnson Oak' Planted On Hospital Grounds

Washington (AP) — President Johnson, still plagued by abdominal pains sharp enough to disturb his sleep, cut official business to the bone Friday and catnapped in a darkened hospital room.

Johnson got barely two hours sleep Thursday night because of pain, according to Assistant Press Secretary Joseph Laitin.

Johnson spent most of the morning hours with the lights off and shades drawn in his third floor bedroom at Bethesda Naval Hospital, where surgeons removed his gall bladder and a kidney stone a week ago Friday.

He did get up at one point, walking to a window to watch Interior Secretary Stewart L Udall plant a 15-foot "Johnson oak" outside to commemorate the presidential stay at Bethesda

"You all go ahead and plant that tree so I can get back to sleep," he called out, according to one member of the White House staff. Other witnesses, however, said they didn't hear this admonition.

Mrs. Johnson, still spending much of her time at the hospital, observed Udall's spadework at closer range.

'Space Switch Engine' Ignites Only 2 Times

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — The Titan 3 military space rocket propelled a "space switch engine" into orbit Friday, but the payload tumbled out of control and achieved only two of 10 planned ignitions.

Air Force officials said the Titan 3, most powerful rocket ever launched by the United States, achieved most major objectives on its second test flight, but missed several secondary ones.

The "switch engine"—the fourth stage of the rocket — was to have shifted course four times during the intended record ignition performance and kick loose three satellites.

However, only two course shifts were achieved. Early tracking failed to show that any of the satellites separated.

Nevertheless, the failure of the upper stage—officially called a transtage—to make the multiple starts could delay Titan 3 development as a carrier for manned and unmanned military space payloads

Morrissey Situation Is Clouded Up

Washington (UPI) — The fate of Francis X. Morrissey's nomination to a federal judgeship grew cloudier Friday with a dispute over whether he was in Georgia or in Massachusetts in early 1934.

The question, raised by the Boston Globe, led Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen to call for further investigation of the tangled Morrissey case before the Senate votes on his nomination.

Last Tuesday, the 55-year-old Boston Municipal Court judge and old friend of the Kennedy family told the Senate Judiciary Committee he was in Georgia about six months after he was admitted to that state's bar in September 1933

But Friday, the Boston newspaper said Morrissey had sought election to the Massachusetts Legislature in a September 1934 primary. And the state constitution requires that a candidate be a resident of his home district for one year before the election

Thus, if Morrissey lived in Georgia until March 1934, as he indicated in testimony, he would have been ineligible to serve in the Massachusetts house.

The Globe said Morrissey finished 12th in a field of 16 candidates in the September primary and did not qualify for the final election. Both the 1933 and 1934 Boston City Directories listed him as a resident of the Charlestown district of Boston, it said

"Ye've got to look at it." Dirksen said on learning of the new disclosure. "You just can't blink at these things."

Russians Claim New Satellite Transmits Better

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union's second communications satellite is providing better quality transmission than its first, Deputy Minister of Communications Ivan Klokov said Friday.

The second satellite in the Molniya (Lightning) series was launched Thursday and immediately put to work transmitting telecasts 4,000 miles between Moscow and Vladivostok.

Senate Committee OKs Pay Boost

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Civil Service Committee Friday approved a one-year, 3.6% federal pay increase, tailored to avert a presidential veto.

By an 8-1 vote, the committee approved pay increases for federal and postal workers costing an estimated $641.4 million and retroactive to Oct. 1 of this year.

Youths Burn College Run By Chinese

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP)—A mob's destruction of a Jakarta university sponsored by pro-Peking Chinese has pointed up an anti-Chinese turn in the campaign the army touched off against the Indonesian Communist Party (PKI)

About 800 Indonesian youths burned the two-story school to the ground amid shouts: "Down with communism!"

They fought with 60 Red Chinese students outside a dormitory. Witnesses said knives and guns flashed and several were injured on both sides.

It was the first time that the demonstrators, largely nationalist and Moslem youths who burned the PKI headquarters here last Friday, had attacked a Chinese installation

Indonesian troops, who are generally watching such disorders idly, finally intervened.

OGO2 Is Ailing; Some Equipment Is Switched Off

Washington (AP) — The newly launched OGO2 — the nation's second orbiting geophysical observatory — developed space ailments Friday and engineers switched off some of its equipment temporarily.

The 1,150-pound spacecraft unexpectedly developed a defect in the devices designed to keep it pointing earthward. This is somewhat similar to the difficulty that has limited the usefulness of the first such observatory, OGO1.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched OGO2 Thursday into an orbit 257 to 938 miles above the earth.

Prelates Say All Jews Cannot Be Held Guilty

. . . FOR CHRIST'S CRUCIFIXION

Vatican City (AP)— The Vatican Ecumenical Council accepted Friday an historic declaration aimed at ending 2,000 years of discord between Catholic and Jew. It says all Jews cannot be blamed for Christ's crucifixion.

The Bishops of Roman Catholicism approved the document 7 to 1. It also praises the spiritual values of other non-Christian religions and rejects all discrimination — especially anti-Semitism.

By a final vote of 1,763 to 250 the bishops accepted the declaration — entitled "On the Church's Attitude toward Non-Christians" — for promulgation by Pope Paul VI as a church decree binding on all the world's Roman Catholics.

Although the specific mention of "deicide" (God-killing) was deleted from the version given final endorsement Friday, the document still speaks out against any description of the Jewish people as "rejected by God or accursed."

Never before has any general council in 20 centuries of Catholicism taken such positive stands on the Jewish and other non-Christian religions.

Respect, Reproach

Historic, too, are its words of respect for the beliefs of Moslems, Hindus, Buddhists and other non-Christians and its reproach of any discrimination because of race, color, condition in life or religion as "foreign to the mind of Christ."

The declaration takes passing note of the Crusades against Islam in the Middle Ages by saying that over the centuries "quarrels and hostilities have arisen between Christians and Moslems." It urges that the past be forgotten and that "mutual understanding" move forward.

Opponents apparently included about 100 or 120 Italian and Latin American conservative prelates and Arab-land patriarchs and bishops who have long been against the Jewish section of the document. An estimated 70 to 90 progressive bishops who had argued for leaving in "deicide," as it was in an earlier draft, also apparently put their votes on the negative side.

On the question of the word "deicide," settled in a specific vote before the final balloting, the breakdown was 1,821 in favor of the revised text omitting the word and 245 against.

Many progressives from Europe and the United States felt the text appeared weaker by leaving out the term "deicide."

The amended version given final approval said: "The Jews should not be presented as rejected by God or accursed, as if this follows from holy scriptures."

The declaration also says: "Although the Jewish authorities (of Christ's day) and those who followed their lead pressed for the death of Christ (John 19:6) nevertheless what happened to Christ in His passion cannot be attributed to all Jews, without distinction, then alive, nor to the Jews of today."

Protestant, Jew Praise Action

New York (AP) — The Vatican Council's approval of a declaration affirming Christian ties with Judaism and repudiating anti-Semitism was hailed Friday by leaders of Protestant and Jewish groups but both indicated there was some feeling that the statement should have gone further.

Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, of Indianapolis, president of the National Council of churches, said the council has "added its voice to those of other Christians who have deplored anti-Semitism as unwarranted and un-Christian.

"The fact that the council's statement did not say everything that everyone might have desired, should not be permitted to overshadow the sweeping importance of the declaration as voted."

Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee, said the Vatican Council's adoption of the declaration on Jews was an "act of justice long overdue."

But he added "we regret keenly some of the assertions in the declaration, especially those that might give rise to misunderstandings."

Traywick Installed In Impressive Assemblage

. . . New OU Head Refers to 20th Century Renaissance

Omaha (AP) — Dr. Leland E. Traywick was installed Friday afternoon as eighth president of the University of Omaha amid pomp and ceremony before representatives of 300 institutions of higher education.

For more than a block, in academic costume, more than 600 persons filed into the stadium behind representatives of two of the oldest colleges in the world — the University of Oxford and the University of Cambridge in England.

Besides official representatives of colleges and universities, included were 50 persons of "learned societies" of university rank, 75 from government and some 200 faculty and administrative personnel of the University of Omaha.

Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, inaugural committee chairman, said it was one of the largest, if not the largest, such assemblage in Nebraska history for such an inauguration.

The board of regents presented Dr. Traywick, a 50-year-old economist, an official OU emblem of the presidency —a silver-gilt medallion bearing the seal of the university. It was a gift of the faculties.

DR. TRAYWICK

Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, acting for Gov. Frank Morrison, and Mayor A. V. Sorensen were among those sharing in the ceremonies with the regents, students and the faculties.

President Traywick called this a "new day — a 20th century renaissance — for us all.

"We have the technological explosion . . . the knowledge explosion, the population explosion, the urbanization of America, new political rights, new civil rights and hopefully a new economic and international stability," he said.

"The 20th century renaissance has been changed by our colleges and universities and in turn it is changing them," Dr. Traywick said. He called the role of urban universities as "formidable" even as that given the land-grant universities in the 1860's.

Role Described

The role of the urban university was described as community services, teaching and study; and the "importance of students and student involvement in the educational process. This indicates meaningful student government and participation, channels for grievances, opportunities to work off idealism in constructive programs, and a new organization of student life," President Traywick continued.

United Appeal At Fourth Of Goal

United Appeal thermometers were boosted to 26.6% of the $826,939 goal at the second Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal report meeting Friday, when volunteers reported a total of $220,200

Leading in percentage of goal on Wednesday was the women's division headed by Mrs. A. B. Gorman who reported 42.3% of their $14,500 goal. Friday the women's division turned in pledges and cash totaling $1,748 or 54.3% of their goal. Mrs. Lulu Arnold, division colonel, was the first to receive an "oscar" for going over her goal.

Seven more unit firms added an additional $40,421 to bring the unit firms division total to $83,965 or 18.7% of its $450,000 goal

Leading the unit firm in percentage of increase over last year's gift was Nebraska National Life Insurance Co, who turned in cash and pledges of $1,873 giving them a 31% increase, and Cornbelt Broadcasting Co (KFOR) with a 13 8% increase with pledges and cash totaling $939.

Other unit firms reported by Herb Hopkins, chairman, were: O'Shea Rogers, $2,690; Hovland Swanson, $5,125; Kresge's, $1,700; De Brown Auto Sales, $790; and Gold & Co., $27,303.

The business and government division, headed by Warren Jennings, turned in a total of $9,702, or 36% of their $182,500 goal.

Division A under John Olsson reported a total of $34,122 or 34.5% of its $180,500 goal.

Northern Natural Wholesale Gas Rate Reduction Approved

Washington (AP)—The Power Commission approved Friday a wholesale natural gas rate reduction of about $3.5 million annually by Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, Neb.

The reduced rates were made effective as of June 27, 1965, and Northern is to make appropriate refunds for excess collections since that date.

The company also will refund about $670,000 for the period from Jan. 1 to June 27, 1965. This refund reflects the reduction in federal corporate income tax rate from 50 to 48%, effective Jan. 1.

The company filed the rate reduction as a result of conferences with the commission staff concerning the level of Northern's jurisdictional rates.

In the event the commission's ruling on liberalized tax depreciation allowances is affirmed by the courts in a case now on appeal, Northern and the commission staff will begin new conferences to determine the extent to which the company must make refunds or rate reductions to reflect this policy.

Seward County Banker Is Dead

Mr. Vance was a resident of Milford from 1908 until 1952 when he retired as president of the Farmer's and Merchant's Bank. During this time he also figured largely in the agricultural development of Seward County.

He was born on July 16, 1881 to Alevander H Vance and the former Lucy Wright, pioneer residents of P Township in Seward County. He attended Doane College in Crete from 1902 until 1904.

After farming for three years, he moved to Milford where he met and married Bess Margaret Kilbourn. She died shortly after they celebrated their golden wedding aniversary in 1960.

Mr. Vance is survived by a son, John K. of Kensington, Md.; a daughter, Mrs. Burnet M. Davis, of Chevy Chase, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Gordon Wattles and Mrs Ralph Brown, both of California.

Cuban Trio Arraigned In Dope Haul

Sidney (AP)—Three Cuban citizens were arraigned Friday before a U.S. commissioner after what federal agents called the biggest narcotics haul in the Midwest in 20 or 30 years.

U.S. Commissioner Gerald E. Matzke set bonds of $10,000 each on Lucio Garcia, 21, and Reinaldo Lovenzo, 32, both of New York City, and Oscar Vega, 23, of Los Angeles.

Officers said 200 pounds of pressed marijuana—worth $1 million in the form of cigarettes—was found Wednesday in three suitcases in a rented car used by the three.

Kimball County Attorney Thomas Brower said the value was estimated by narcotics agents who said the marijuana in the processed form in which it was found was worth $16,000 to $20,000.

The three men were charged with transporting marijuana acquired without having paid federal tax.

The trio was originally taken into custody after a Kimball motel where they had stayed reported bedding and other items missing.

While the three were pleading guilty to petit larceny in Kimball, officers obtained a search warrant and said they found the bags containing the marijuana.

Of the three, only Garcia spoke English.

2 More Quit GOP Central Group Posts

Omaha (AP)— The number of Republican State Central Committee members quitting because of GOP leadership criticism of "splinter group" movements rose to four Friday with the resignations of John and Mary Ann Webster of Omaha.

The Websters noted what they termed Sen. Roman Hruska's "blanket condemnation of all members of any organization solely because of membership in such an organization "

Hruska said earlier this week he subscribed to the view expressed by 1964 presidential nominee Barry Goldwater that Republicans who belong to the John Birch Society should resign and devote their political energies to the Republican Party.

Earlier Butler D. Shaffer of Lincoln and Mrs. Leo A. Osborne of Omaha resigned.

State Republican executive secretary Jack Schuetz said the Websters were appointed to the State Central Committee early this year but had not attended any meetings.

Dunbar Farmer Plans To Open Youth Center

Dunbar (UPI) — A Dunbar area farmer, Dennis Bennett, has tackled the problem of keeping area young people busy almost single-handed.

Bennett said he hopes to open a youth center Saturday.

Bennett, with some help from area youths and some adults, has remodeled a former cafe. Initially it will include a snack bar and dance floor

Later, Bennett said he hopes to get a combo to play once a week. A game room is also envisioned . . . in the basement an archery and rifle range is planned.

Gronouski Plugs Zip Code System

Omaha (UPI) — John A. Gronouski, who stepped down as postmaster general to become U.S. ambassador to Poland, said that zip code, although not fully understood, is the only system that will adequately handle future mail volumes.

Gronouski, in a wind-up speech at the 61st annual National Association of Postmasters convention, told some 2,500 delegates that 100 billion pieces will be handled by 1980.

State Dairy Industry Lagging In Three Areas, Kelly Claims

The Nebraska dairy industry was challenged here Friday to work toward greater improvement in three general areas to keep the state in a competitive position in marketing dairy products.

Dr. P. L. Kelly, chairman of the University of Nebraska Department of Dairy Science, told those attending a Dairy Fieldmen's Conference at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education that the state's dairy industry is lagging in —Enrollment of dairy cows in production testing programs.

—Increasing the average milk production per cow.

Comparing figures from 1958 to 1964, Dr. Kelly said 19% of Nebraska Dairy cows were bred artificially last year compared to 17.6% in 1958. However, per cent increases for the same period were greater in most surrounding states, and in all surrounding states except Oklahoma, the gross percentage of cows bred artificially is greater. In some of the major dairy states, such as Minnesota and Wisconsin, the percentage in 1964 ranged from 45 to 60%.

As of January 1, 1965, 6.4% of Nebraska's dairy cows were enrolled in some type of production testing program — only slightly ahead of Missouri and Oklahoma and behind other neighboring states. Percentages in major dairy states with different conditions than Nebraska range upward to 25%, with the figure reaching 46 per cent in California.

The average milk production per cow in Nebraska was 6,600 lbs in 1964, slightly ahead of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, but behind Iowa and Colorado.

Traywick Installed In Impressive Assemblage

. . . New OU Head Refers to 20th Century Renaissance

Omaha (AP) — Dr. Leland E. Traywick was installed Friday afternoon as eighth president of the University of Omaha amid pomp and ceremony before representatives of 300 institutions of higher education.

For more than a block, in academic costume, more than 600 persons filed into the stadium behind representatives of two of the oldest colleges in the world — the University of Oxford and the University of Cambridge in England.

Besides official representatives of colleges and universities, included were 50 persons of "learned societies" of university rank, 75 from government and some 200 faculty and administrative personnel of the University of Omaha.

Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, inaugural committee chairman, said it was one of the largest, if not the largest, such assemblage in Nebraska history for such an inauguration.

The board of regents presented Dr. Traywick, a 50-year-old economist, an official OU emblem of the presidency —a silver-gilt medallion bearing the seal of the university. It was a gift of the faculties.

AP

DR. TRAYWICK

Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, acting for Gov. Frank Morrison, and Mayor A. V. Sorensen were among those sharing in the ceremonies with the regents, students and the faculties.

President Traywick called this a "new day — a 20th century renaissance — for us all.

"We have the technological explosion . . . the knowledge explosion, the population explosion, the urbanization of America, new political rights, new civil rights and hopefully a new economic and international stability," he said.

"The 20th century renaissance has been changed by our colleges and universities and in turn it is changing them," Dr. Traywick said. He called the role of urban universities as "formidable" even as that given the land-grant universities in the 1860's.

Role Described

The role of the urban university was described as community services, teaching and study; and the "importance of students and student involvement in the educational process. This indicates meaningful student government and participation, channels for grievances, opportunities to work off idealism in constructive programs, and a new organization of student life," President Traywick continued.

United Appeal At Fourth Of Goal

United Appeal thermometers were boosted to 26.6% of the $826,939 goal at the second Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal report meeting Friday, when volunteers reported a total of $220,200.

Leading in percentage of goal on Wednesday was the women's division headed by Mrs. A. B. Gorman who reported 42.3% of their $14,500 goal. Friday the women's division turned in pledges and cash totaling $1,748 or 54.3% of their goal. Mrs. Lulu Arnold, division colonel, was the first to receive an "oscar" for going over her goal.

Seven more unit firms added an additional $40,421 to bring the unit firms division total to $83,965 or 18.7% of ts $450,000 goal.

Leading the unit firm in percentage of increase over last year's gift was Nebraska National Life Insurance Co., who turned in cash and pledges of $1,873 giving them a 31% increase, and Cornbelt Broadcasting Co. (KFOR) with a 13.8% increase with pledges and cash totaling $939.

Other unit firms reported by Herb Hopkins, chairman, were: O'Shea Rogers, $2,690; Hovland Swanson, $5,125; Kresge's, $1,700; De Brown Auto Sales, $790; and Gold & Co., $27,303.

The business and government division, headed by Warren Jennings, turned in a total of $9,702, or 36% of their $182,500 goal.

Division A under John Olsson reported a total of $34,122 or 34.5% of its $180,500 goal.

Northern Natural Wholesale Gas Rate Reduction Approved

Washington (AP)—The Power Commission approved Friday a wholesale natural gas rate reduction of about $3.5 million annually by Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, Neb.

The reduced rates were made effective as of June 27, 1965, and Northern is to make appropriate refunds for excess collections since that date.

The company also will refund about $670,000 for the period from Jan. 1 to June 27, 1965. This refund reflects the reduction in federal corporate income tax rate from 50 to 48%, effective Jan. 1.

The company filed the rate reduction as a result of conferences with the commission staff concerning the level of Northern's jurisdictional rates.

In the event the commission's ruling on liberalized tax depreciation allowances is affirmed by the courts in a case now on appeal, Northern and the commission staff will begin new conferences to determine the extent to which the company must make refunds or rate reductions to reflect this policy.

Many Aspects Of Learning

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

What is education? Ask what seems like a simple question and you will get a great variety of answers. Education to some people is a process of maturing, to others it is experience, to others it is the learning of special skills, to others it is a search for truth, etc. Probably no two people would put their answers to the question in exactly the same words. In the news this week, we see a demonstration of the varied nature of this process we call education.

Industrial Facet

At this year's Education-Business Day, the emphasis was placed on an aspect of education that is not included in any of the above answers. Education as it was presented at this meeting is an industry and a major one for Lincoln. Lincoln businessmen were told that some $100 million will be spent in the next six years for expansion and improvements of the University of Nebraska, Nebraska Wesleyan and Union College. These educational activities were likened to the acquisition, every year, of a new plant employing 1,000 persons. Just think of the celebrating that would take place if Lincoln made such an annual acquisition as this.

It would mean hundreds of new home starts, a multiplication of jobs far beyond the 1,000 figure and a growing prosperity for all the people of Lincoln. The educational institutions centered in Lincoln do have just such an impact. The complex of people — instructors, students, administrators, etc. — the physical plant and the related services constitute a community in themselves.

These institutions do not spend money for pump-priming purposes and are not expected to do so but they surely do prime the economic pump of Lincoln. It is an advantage to Lincoln that should be appreciated and one which ought to encourage a high degree of cooperation between Lincoln and the schools.

Something of the same nature can be seen in another educational development of this week — final congressional action on the new program of aid to higher education. Senate and House conferees have produced a higher education aid program to cost $841 million a year. As though they might have been answering those critics who have called them a rubber stamp, senators and representatives provided the program with more than twice the amount of funds requested by President Johnson. The arm-twisting in this case surely has not come from the White House, which was entering no new field to begin with in its higher education objectives. The President has confined his pioneering in education to affairs at the primary and secondary levels.

The new congressional program aims at the improvement of institutions of higher learning as well as their accessibility. In the case of the latter, substantial numbers of scholarships will be made available to needy students. The program in total recognizes the growing enrollments that are a part of campus life today as well as providing an impetus for future expansion. Fortunately, education is a kind of self-perpetuating thing. The more of it we have, the more of it is demanded. This is because education is its own best friend, broadening the outlook and improving the understanding of more and more people so they come to appreciate the significance of higher learning.

This brings us to a kind of meshing of which Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska spoke during ceremonies preceding the installation of Leland E. Traywick as president of the University of Omaha. Chancellor Hardin linked together the intellectual and economic growth of society and spoke of the manner in which they complement one another.

This, of course, is a large part of the meaning of education. It is pursued as a means of opening up to man those avenues which have in the past been closed to him, avenues which offer a more rewarding and satisfying way of life. Learning is the means by which we make life more meaningful.

Reaching For Perfection

Through education we find the ways of perfecting medicine, of advancing the arts and sciences and of expanding industry and commerce. In this way we find the span of life lengthened and the years made fuller. Through education we eliminate the hardships that have burdened past generations and give to each individual the potential of full productivity. The individual is equipped to make a contribution to the society that is meaningful, productive and rewarding. It is rewarding in both a personal and financial way. When all is said and done, the only really limiting factor for man is the development of his intellect.

With sufficient intellectual capacity, there is no problem that is beyond us, no answer that could remain a mystery. We are far from this state of perfection and perhaps may never get there, but it is the end we always seek. It should be obvious to all that there is no more productive investment we can make than that which we make in education. From every point of view, education has a priority in our lives that knows little real competition.

Flood Control Lag

The Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission will find little disagreement with its announced plans for determination and correction of faults contributing to a slowdown in construction of flood control projects. The commission took note of the fact that Nebraska, once a leader in construction, is now near the bottom in comparison with other states.

The state still stands high in planning but serious lags have developed from that point on. The situation is such that we could reach the point where the federal government would cut back grants to the state because of the construction backlog that exists. Certainly, this would be a loss that would both embarrass and hurt Nebraska and one we should avoid.

Throughout the state are still hundreds of small watersheds where annual losses are eating away at the economic welfare of the state. Valuable soil is being washed away, land is being flooded, highways and bridges are being damaged and other adversities are taking their toll of us. Every such loss is a loss that we can never regain. At the same time, the cost of prevention is constantly mounting, making delays and added economic hardship.

Watershed development in the state is largely dependent upon local initiative. While funds can be obtained in part from the federal government, local bodies must provide the leadership and administration to get a project going and see it through to completion. This is an area where Nebraska should shine and where encouragement from the commission should be most effective.

What Sort Of An Ethic?

Congressman Ancher Nelson, Rep. Minn., is seeking to reopen the Bobby Baker case. He is alleging that Baker received $100,000 from the West Coast Building and Loan industry after Congress had passed the Revenue Act of 1962, which provided tax loopholes for stock savings and loan associations.

The intimation here is that Baker performed a valuable service for the B & L industry for which he was paid $100,000, despite the fact that he had an appointment that connected him closely with the kind of laws the Congress passes.

We have no way of knowing whether Nelsen's allegations are true, and are therefore in no position to judge either Baker or the West Coast Building and Loan Industry. But we do know that in instances of payoff, there has to be two interests involved, one the receiver of the favor and the other the doer of the favor. Both are equally guilty of violating the public ethic and both should be punished.

This sort of half justice is basic reason why it is so difficult to keep government clean, to establish a code of ethics worth the paper it is written on.

What we need is as heavy a hand on the purchaser of the favor as we attempt to lay on the doer of the favor.

In this case, if the West Coast Saving and Loan industry is as guilty of offering a payoff as Bobby Baker was in receiving it, why is not Congressman Nelson proceeding as vigorously against it as he is against Baker?

Editorial Of The Day

Fire At Will

From The Washington Post

The news pages reported the other day that a young woman whose husband had refused to take her out for the evening picked up his .38-caliber revolver from a bedroom dressing table and shot him twice. His condition was called satisfactory at the hospital where he was admitted with chest and scalp wounds; but he will probably not be taking her out for the evening for some time to come.

To be sure, the young woman might have expressed her displeasure with her husband by some other means had a revolver not been so readily available. She might have emulated one of those amiable Borgia wives who so frequently became widows in the days of the Italian Renaissance by the simple device of slipping a drop of poison into an unsatisfactory husband's wine glass. But deadly poisons are not so easily obtainable as they used to be in those days. A paternalistic government has sought to protect the public safety by limiting access to them by law.

Today, useful as they are for homicidal purposes, the arsenicals, the mercury products, the cyanides and even less lethal poisons are very hard to get hold of and are rarely to be found lying at hand on bedroom dressing tables at moments of conjugal irritation. They cannot be purchased by mail order or over the counters of neighborhood sporting goods establishments. No doubt this is considered inconvenient by those who want them in a hurry; but from the point of view of the community as a whole it is perhaps a not altogether unreasonable restriction.

How To Get A Big Sugar Quota

WASHINGTON—No story of the career of callous North Carolina Congressman Harold Cooley is complete without some reference to his relations with Charles Patrick Clark, long-time lobbyist for Franco of Spain.

Mr. Clark is a remarkable man. He is pugnacious, persuasive and productive. Though long registered as a foreign agent, he doesn't like to be called a lobbyist. He prefers the term "cultural adviser."

Nevertheless, he has accomplished more as a foreign agent than perhaps any other Washington lobbyist in years.

His recent accomplishment was for Venezuela, and here is the inside story of what happened: Three young men, Dr. Antonio Espinoza, Dr. Manuel Perez Oliveras, Mr. Marcel Carvallo, representing the Venezuela Sugar Association, came to Washington to try to increase Venezuela's sugar quota as other countries had done.

They dropped in at the Venezuelan embassy to tell the ambassador they were going up to Congress to talk to Mr. Cooley. This they had been told was the thing to do since he, as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, controlled the sugar quotas which mean millions of dollars to sugar-raising nations. So, accompanied by the Venezuelan commercial attache, Walter Brandt, they called on Cooley.

"What you need is a lawyer," Cooley advised.

"Can you recommend one?" they asked.

Cooley replied that he had no candidate; there are many good lawyers in Washington; one who knew the sugar business extremely well, however, was Charles Patrick Clark.

The three young Venezuelans called on Clark immediately and were surprised to find that he expected them. He was quite willing to handle the Venezuelan sugar quota, and named his fee as follows: A deposit of $25,000 paid immediately; $25,000 on January 5, 1966; another $25,000 on June 1, 1966; $25,000 on January 5, 1967, and a final $25,000 on June 1, 1967. Total: $125,000 over a two-and-a-half-year period. Clark also received $5,000 on August 13, 1965, $10,500 on August 25,—$7,000 on September 2, 1965. Clark told the three Venezuelans that he would cover all expenses. He did not specify what those expenses would be.

The three Venezuelans returned to their embassy and gleefully announced that they had retained a lawyer.

"Who is he?" asked the ambassador.

"Charles Patrick Clark," was the reply.

The ambassador had been ready to recommend several competent lawyers and called Venezuela's long-time standing attorney, Howard Westwood of the Dean Acheson law firm. Westwood almost exploded.

First Term House Members Let Down

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress who worked hardest and took the biggest risks for the Great Society are being let down with a thump in the adjournment rush by President Johnson and their fellow liberals, the Senators Kennedy.

Cold figures prove that the first term Democrats of the House repeatedly made the difference between victory and defeat on major parts of the Johnson program. Finally, in a masterpiece of "just one more" wheedling, at which he excels even photographers, he implored their votes for repeal of federal permission to the states to enact right-to-work laws.

Other votes had been risky. But in the traditionally safe conservative districts from which the freshmen came there are absolutely no political dividends to be had from the pro-labor one. Knowing how crucial a second term victory is in House tenure, Speaker McCormack creditably sought to take the cup from their lips, but the White House insisted and the freshmen once more sipped it.

Now that limb has been sawed off in the Senate by a Republican-Southern conservative filibuster which majority leader Mansfield declined to try to break. Labor will assuredly try again, putting the issue into the congressional election year. House veterans are growling that it's a damn shame but there it is.

The President is left with broken promises to his labor allies and to his precariously placed supporters who had been assured the Senate would act this session.

For no official reason, the President suddenly sent the Senate the nomination to a federal judgeship of a Kennedy retainer whose unfitness was so manifest President Kennedy and his brother Robert, the then attorney general, had refused to oblige. But the senators Kennedy have pressed it on Johnson.

Attacked on both flanks, the Senate liberal conscience seems to be unequal to the test. Its franchise holders are grateful to the President for enacting their program which will help them win re-election. They like and have had much fruitful collaboration with the Kennedy senators. The late president of course is out of it but the nomination is also being pressed in the name of the ailing patriarch who has had much to bear of late.

The record of embarrassing Senate hearings has confirmed all that the American Bar Association has long said about the nominee. Plainly put, it shows an agreeable lightweight with the preposterous "Last Hurrah" ethics but not the brains of their fabled epitome," the late James M. Curley.

It's a great day for conservatives. Their fondest charge against liberals is is that they parade themselves as the party of humanity and morals but when their interest is affected, nobody falls farther from grace.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Although members of the 1965 Legislature don't know it, and won't like it, they unintentionally removed the prohibition which has historically prevented state department heads from seeking the governorship.

Walton

They did it when they enacted LB726, the far-reaching bill which removed salary ceilings for department heads—and abolished their terms.

In doing so, the Legislature broadly altered the effect of the state constitutional prohibition (Article IV, Section 2) which prevents department heads from seeking elective state office "during the period for which they have been . . . appointed."

Under that constitutional bar, a department head, appointed by the governor to serve during the latter's term of office (which was the case before LB726), could not be a candidate for governor during that period of time, which extended beyond the next gubernatorial election.

The prohibition was in effect during that fixed period of time, whether the department head resigned in the meantime or not.

Now there is no term. And "the period for which they have been appointed" ends whenever the department chief quits or is fired.

Thus, it would appear, any department head from now on can resign and seek the governorship without prohibition.

And, any department head who is fired by the governor may challenge him at the next election. He may also seek any other elective state office.

Proof that the Legislature did not intend to remove the prohibition can be found in a study of legislative action on LB48, which proposes a constitutional amendment removing the same prohibition now applied against four elected executive officers, the attorney general, secretary of state, auditor and treasurer.

As introduced, LB48 would have kayoed the prohibition for both elective and appointive offices, but the Legislature amended the bill specifically to retain the bar upon department heads.

The constitutional amendment, as it will be submitted to voters in the 1966 general election, thus eliminates only the ineligibility of elective executive state officers to any other state office during the term for which they have been elected.

The amendment will leave the prohibition against appointive officers unchanged. But, it hardly matters, once LB726 becomes effective next month.

The Hyde Park Exercise at NU looks to be a success. Participation by students at the first open discussion session this week was considerable, and the thing is likely to build momentum in coming weeks.

What it tends to show about the students who participate is a depth, an awareness and a commitment which other generations cannot match.

They are intense.

They prove that wisdom is not, and never was, related to age.

And they display a solid belief that life has far nobler purposes than the mere accumulation of money.

—new faces eyed by party leaders as potential future candidates for the Democrats: Dr. Eugene Wiegman, administrative assistant to Rep. Clair Callan; State Insurance Director Frank Barrett, and Robert Raun of Norman, who assisted Bill Colwell in his 1964 Third District congressional race.

—the executive committee of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative has authorized G & T to intervene in the lawsuit attempting to void legislation creating the new electric grid system. G & T will defend the law.

—Nebraska's George Norris was the first member of the U.S. Senate "to grasp the vision of the 20th Century," House Majority Leader Carl Albert told Callan-boosting Democrats in Lincoln last weekend.

—First counties to raise 100% of their 1965 Republican finance quotas were Box Butte, McPherson and Grant, all in the west. Latest published report (September) showed Lancaster with 81% and Douglas with 48%.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Power Regulation In Dispute

WASHINGTON—"Operation Gouge" is the private label being put by opponents on a maneuver in the House that would go a long way toward ending regulation of electric power rates both at state and federal levels. Whether possible projected savings as high as $11 billion annually by 1980 are to benefit the consumer or the private power industry is the issue.

That is, in effect, how the Federal Power Commission put it in a report to Chairman Oren Harris of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee on a bill so sweeping it would gut both the Wheeler-Rayburn Act of 1935 and the 1920 law regulating hydro-electric development. A subcommittee headed by Rep. Walter Rogers of Texas approved the measure. The commission report, with the okay of the White House, has been largely ignored.

If federal regulation of wholesale power rates is ended, as the bill provides, then the states will be unable to apply effective regulation to retail rates. The FPC report says the measure "would mean the end of responsible regulation of this nation's electric utility systems."

Under the bill, large new atomic power installations, which will sooner or later provide price competition with steam-generated power, would be exempt from regulation. As one example, the FPC report cited the Yankee Atomic Electric Co., under construction in Massachusetts to supply power to New England states. But because Yankee Atomic's generating facilities "are entirely situated in a single state," under the bill's definition, it would not be regulated even though the power is sold in four states other than Massachusetts.

What astonished commission members was that the Rogers bill as finally unveiled went much further than even utility spokesmen had urged. They had agreed that while earlier bills they favored exempted Yankee Atomic, nevertheless it should come under federal regulation because its power was to go into interstate commerce.

Behind the conflict that could in the end cost consumers billions of dollars is a fascinating tangle of politics and personalities. FPC Chairman Joseph C. Swidler has directed vigorous regulation over both natural gas and electric power. In doing so he has stepped on some sensitive and important toes.

FPC has just reaffirmed the historic Permian Basin Case setting prices for natural gas substantially below levels sought by the producers. Because the producers in the Permian Basin in parts of Texas and New Mexico have been charging more than the rate fixed by the FPC, pending a decision, refunds of $33.6 million are due. The commission ruling affecting the gas bills of at least 35 million consumers of natural gas, the biggest share in the north, is being challenged in federal court by the producers. Just as with electric power, they argued that the commission had no right to fix the wholesale price.

Speaking for his state and for the hierarchy of oil-gas producers, Gov. John B. Connally of Texas testified in vigorous opposition to the rate set by FPC examiners. On about two-thirds of the output of the Permian Basin, the FPC set a rate of 14.5 cents per 100 cubic feet while producers asked for 20 cents. The ruling applies, of course, to producers everywhere furnishing an important share of the fuel of 48 states.

Texans have also been active in promoting an end of FPC authority over wholesale power rates. J. J. (Jake) Pickle, who represents the district from which Lyndon Johnson first came to Congress, put in one restrictive bill not as far-reaching as that approved by the subcommittee. Floridians in Congress, including Sens. George Smathers and Spessard Holland and Rep. Paul G. Rogers, have also been active. One effect of the sweeping bill would be to exempt a number of power distributors now contesting FPC jurisdiction. One is the Florida Power and Light Co.

Swidler's term expired in June. Last March he wrote a letter to President Johnson saying he did not desire reappointment. But some of the President's advisers felt that if the White House had shown a strong interest in vigorous enforcement, Swidler might have stayed on. He is serving presumably until a replacement is found. His critics accuse him of a political blunder in trying to bring the rural electric co-ops under FPC jurisdiction. This alienated what might have been a strong source of support.

Bob Sounds Off

Lincoln, Neb.

Before Senator Robert Kennedy indulges in too many histrionics with the Senate chamber as a sounding board over inviting Red China to the Geneva disarmament conference, would he not do well to concentrate upon dissuading General De Gaulle from his boycott of said conference? This latter would, it seems to me, be less theatrical and possibly more fruitful in avoiding the spread of communism, and likewise the prevention of a nuclear catastrophe.

Would it not also have been far more circumspect for such a suggestion to have arisen within the United Nations, or to have come from a Western European spokesman than from a United States senator? No part of the world is more mindful of the ravages of war than are the Middle Eastern and European countries, particularly those of Western Europe. Hence, to anyone who has been in any of these parts of the world, Senator Kennedy's theatrics on inviting Red China to the disarmament conference sounds like an idea that came out of Pandora's Box.

How To Get A Big Sugar Quota

WASHINGTON—No story of the career of callous North Carolina Congressman Harold Cooley is complete without some reference to his relations with Charles Patrick Clark, long-time lobbyist for Franco of Spain.

Mr. Clark is a remarkable man. He is pugnacious, persuasive and productive. Though long registered as a foreign agent, he doesn't like to be called a lobbyist. He prefers the term "cultural adviser."

Nevertheless, he has accomplished more as a foreign agent than perhaps any other Washington lobbyist in years.

His recent accomplishment was for Venezuela, and here is the inside story of what happened: Three young men, Dr. Antonio Espinoza, Dr. Manuel Perez Oliveras, Mr. Marcel Carvallo, representing the Venezuela Sugar Association, came to Washington to try to increase Venezuela's sugar quota as other countries had done.

They dropped in at the Venezuelan embassy to tell the ambassador they were going up to Congress to talk to Mr. Cooley. This they had been told was the thing to do since he, as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, controlled the sugar quotas which mean millions of dollars to sugar-raising nations. So, accompanied by the Venezuelan commercial attache, Walter Brandt, they called on Cooley.

"What you need is a lawyer," Cooley advised.

"Can you recommend one?" they asked.

Cooley replied that he had no candidate; there are many good lawyers in Washington; one who knew the sugar business extremely well, however, was Charles Patrick Clark.

The three young Venezuelans called on Clark immediately and were surprised to find that he expected them. He was quite willing to handle the Venezuelan sugar quota, and named his fee as follows: A deposit of $25,000 paid immediately; $25,000 on January 5, 1966; another $25,000 on June 1, 1966; $25,000 on January 5, 1967, and a final $25,000 on June 1, 1967. Total: $125,000 over a two-and-a-half-year period. Clark also received $5,000 on August 13, 1965, $10,500 on August 25,—$7,000 on September 2, 1965. Clark told the three Venezuelans that he would cover all expenses. He did not specify what those expenses would be.

The three Venezuelans returned to their embassy and gleefully announced that they had retained a lawyer.

"Who is he?" asked the ambassador.

"Charles Patrick Clark," was the reply.

The ambassador had been ready to recommend several competent lawyers and called Venezuela's long-time standing attorney, Howard Westwood of the Dean Acheson law firm. Westwood almost exploded.

First Term House Members Let Down

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress who worked hardest and took the biggest risks for the Great Society are being let down with a thump in the adjournment rush by President Johnson and their fellow liberals, the Senators Kennedy.

Cold figures prove that the first term Democrats of the House repeatedly made the difference between victory and defeat on major parts of the Johnson program. Finally, in a masterpiece of "just one more" wheedling, at which he excels even photographers, he implored their votes for repeal of federal permission to the states to enact right-to-work laws.

Other votes had been risky. But in the traditionally safe conservative districts from which the freshmen came there are absolutely no political dividends to be had from the pro-labor one. Knowing how crucial a second term victory is in House tenure, Speaker McCormack creditably sought to take the cup from their lips, but the White House insisted and the freshmen once more sipped it.

Now that limb has been sawed off in the Senate by a Republican-Southern conservative filibuster which majority leader Mansfield declined to try to break. Labor will assuredly try again, putting the issue into the congressional election year. House veterans are growling that it's a damn shame but there it is.

The President is left with broken promises to his labor allies and to his precariously placed supporters who had been assured the Senate would act this session.

For no official reason, the President suddenly sent the Senate the nomination to a federal judgeship of a Kennedy retainer whose unfitness was so manifest President Kennedy and his brother Robert, the then attorney general, had refused to oblige. But the senators Kennedy have pressed it on Johnson.

Attacked on both flanks, the Senate liberal conscience seems to be unequal to the test. Its franchise holders are grateful to the President for enacting their program which will help them win re-election. They like and have had much fruitful collaboration with the Kennedy senators. The late president of course is out of it but the nomination is also being pressed in the name of the ailing patriarch who has had much to bear of late.

The record of embarrassing Senate hearings has confirmed all that the American Bar Association has long said about the nominee. Plainly put, it shows an agreeable lightweight with the preposterous "Last Hurrah" ethics but not the brains of their fabled epitome," the late James M. Curley.

It's a great day for conservatives. Their fondest charge against liberals is is that they parade themselves as the party of humanity and morals but when their interest is affected, nobody falls farther from grace.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Although members of the 1965 Legislature don't know it, and won't like it, they unintentionally removed the prohibition which has historically prevented state department heads from seeking the governorship.

Walton

They did it when they enacted LB726, the far-reaching bill which removed salary ceilings for department heads—and abolished their terms.

In doing so, the Legislature broadly altered the effect of the state constitutional prohibition (Article IV, Section 2) which prevents department heads from seeking elective state office "during the period for which they have been . . . appointed."

Under that constitutional bar, a department head, appointed by the governor to serve during the latter's term of office (which was the case before LB726), could not be a candidate for governor during that period of time, which extended beyond the next gubernatorial election.

The prohibition was in effect during that fixed period of time, whether the department head resigned in the meantime or not.

Now there is no term. And "the period for which they have been appointed" ends whenever the department chief quits or is fired.

Thus, it would appear, any department head from now on can resign and seek the governorship without prohibition.

And, any department head who is fired by the governor may challenge him at the next election. He may also seek any other elective state office.

Proof that the Legislature did not intend to remove the prohibition can be found in a study of legislative action on LB48, which proposes a constitutional amendment removing the same prohibition now applied against four elected executive officers, the attorney general, secretary of state, auditor and treasurer.

As introduced, LB48 would have kayoed the prohibition for both elective and appointive offices, but the Legislature amended the bill specifically to retain the bar upon department heads.

The constitutional amendment, as it will be submitted to voters in the 1966 general election, thus eliminates only the ineligibility of elective executive state officers to any other state office during the term for which they have been elected.

The amendment will leave the prohibition against appointive officers unchanged. But, it hardly matters, once LB726 becomes effective next month.

The Hyde Park Exercise at NU looks to be a success. Participation by students at the first open discussion session this week was considerable, and the thing is likely to build momentum in coming weeks.

What it tends to show about the students who participate is a depth, an awareness and a commitment which other generations cannot match.

They are intense.

They prove that wisdom is not, and never was, related to age.

And they display a solid belief that life has far nobler purposes than the mere accumulation of money.

—new faces eyed by party leaders as potential future candidates for the Democrats: Dr. Eugene Wiegman, administrative assistant to Rep. Clair Callan; State Insurance Director Frank Barrett, and Robert Raun of Norman, who assisted Bill Colwell in his 1964 Third District congressional race.

—the executive committee of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative has authorized G & T to intervene in the lawsuit attempting to void legislation creating the new electric grid system. G & T will defend the law.

—Nebraska's George Norris was the first member of the U.S. Senate "to grasp the vision of the 20th Century," House Majority Leader Carl Albert told Callan-boosting Democrats in Lincoln last weekend.

—First counties to raise 100% of their 1965 Republican finance quotas were Box Butte, McPherson and Grant, all in the west. Latest published report (September) showed Lancaster with 81% and Douglas with 48%.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Power Regulation In Dispute

WASHINGTON—"Operation Gouge" is the private label being put by opponents on a maneuver in the House that would go a long way toward ending regulation of electric power rates both at state and federal levels. Whether possible projected savings as high as $11 billion annually by 1980 are to benefit the consumer or the private power industry is the issue.

That is, in effect, how the Federal Power Commission put it in a report to Chairman Oren Harris of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee on a bill so sweeping it would gut both the Wheeler-Rayburn Act of 1935 and the 1920 law regulating hydro-electric development. A subcommittee headed by Rep. Walter Rogers of Texas approved the measure. The commission report, with the okay of the White House, has been largely ignored.

If federal regulation of wholesale power rates is ended, as the bill provides, then the states will be unable to apply effective regulation to retail rates. The FPC report says the measure "would mean the end of responsible regulation of this nation's electric utility systems."

Under the bill, large new atomic power installations, which will sooner or later provide price competition with steam-generated power, would be exempt from regulation. As one example, the FPC report cited the Yankee Atomic Electric Co., under construction in Massachusetts to supply power to New England states. But because Yankee Atomic's generating facilities "are entirely situated in a single state," under the bill's definition, it would not be regulated even though the power is sold in four states other than Massachusetts.

What astonished commission members was that the Rogers bill as finally unveiled went much further than even utility spokesmen had urged. They had agreed that while earlier bills they favored exempted Yankee Atomic, nevertheless it should come under federal regulation because its power was to go into interstate commerce.

Behind the conflict that could in the end cost consumers billions of dollars is a fascinating tangle of politics and personalities. FPC Chairman Joseph C. Swidler has directed vigorous regulation over both natural gas and electric power. In doing so he has stepped on some sensitive and important toes.

FPC has just reaffirmed the historic Permian Basin Case setting prices for natural gas substantially below levels sought by the producers. Because the producers in the Permian Basin in parts of Texas and New Mexico have been charging more than the rate fixed by the FPC, pending a decision, refunds of $33.6 million are due. The commission ruling affecting the gas bills of at least 35 million consumers of natural gas, the biggest share in the north, is being challenged in federal court by the producers. Just as with electric power, they argued that the commission had no right to fix the wholesale price.

Speaking for his state and for the hierarchy of oil-gas producers, Gov. John B. Connally of Texas testified in vigorous opposition to the rate set by FPC examiners. On about two-thirds of the output of the Permian Basin, the FPC set a rate of 14.5 cents per 100 cubic feet while producers asked for 20 cents. The ruling applies, of course, to producers everywhere furnishing an important share of the fuel of 48 states.

Texans have also been active in promoting an end of FPC authority over wholesale power rates. J. J. (Jake) Pickle, who represents the district from which Lyndon Johnson first came to Congress, put in one restrictive bill not as far-reaching as that approved by the subcommittee. Floridians in Congress, including Sens. George Smathers and Spessard Holland and Rep. Paul G. Rogers, have also been active. One effect of the sweeping bill would be to exempt a number of power distributors now contesting FPC jurisdiction. One is the Florida Power and Light Co.

Swidler's term expired in June. Last March he wrote a letter to President Johnson saying he did not desire reappointment. But some of the President's advisers felt that if the White House had shown a strong interest in vigorous enforcement, Swidler might have stayed on. He is serving presumably until a replacement is found. His critics accuse him of a political blunder in trying to bring the rural electric co-ops under FPC jurisdiction. This alienated what might have been a strong source of support.

Bob Sounds Off

Lincoln, Neb.

Before Senator Robert Kennedy indulges in too many histrionics with the Senate chamber as a sounding board over inviting Red China to the Geneva disarmament conference, would he not do well to concentrate upon dissuading General De Gaulle from his boycott of said conference? This latter would, it seems to me, be less theatrical and possibly more fruitful in avoiding the spread of communism, and likewise the prevention of a nuclear catastrophe.

Would it not also have been far more circumspect for such a suggestion to have arisen within the United Nations, or to have come from a Western European spokesman than from a United States senator? No part of the world is more mindful of the ravages of war than are the Middle Eastern and European countries, particularly those of Western Europe. Hence, to anyone who has been in any of these parts of the world, Senator Kennedy's theatrics on inviting Red China to the disarmament conference sounds like an idea that came out of Pandora's Box.

Reasons For Low Crime Rate Among Elders Viewed

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "A recent survey showed that crime is highest among youths between 17 and 25, and lowest among folks past 65. Does this suggest that age breeds ethics and honesty?"

A. No, but it suggests that folks learn from experience. Much youthful crime stems from monotony, a desire for excitement and ignorance of the consequences. As we grow older we learn to cope with monotony, we find more constructive sources of excitement and we become wise to the fact that, despite its occasional allure, crime really doesn't pay.

Q. "Last year, at 47, I married an old bachelor of 66. We never dreamed we'd have children, but here we are with a bouncing baby boy two months old. Dad is as excited as a coon dog and is already talking about taking his son hunting and fishing. But a little arithmetic shows he'll be 81 when the boy is just 15. Don't you agree he's sure to be disappointed?"

A. Not necessarily—many men these days at 81 are remarkable physical specimens. This addition to the family may be just the spark needed to give your husband new vitality and a renewed zest for living which may add years to his life.

Q. "My mother-in-law, 76, spends every Sunday with us and jabbers from the time she arrives until she departs. She considers herself an expert on foreign affairs, but three-fourths of the time her facts are wrong. When I try to correct her she refuses to listen and says I'm picking on her. What's a man to do?"

A. Cultivate a sense of tolerance. Let her talk and spare yourself the trouble of correcting her, since this only creates dissension. Highly opinionated characters, who are unwilling to be corrected and are quick to take offense, are their own worst enemies, for few people find them attractive to be around.

Q. "You're always prodding folks to travel, but do you really think gadding is the answer? I have a friend who spends four months a year hopping from one place to another yet she always seems discontented when I talk with her. I stay at home all the time with my two dogs, three cats and a small greenhouse where I grow tropical shrubs and flowers. I can truthfully say I'm completely happy. So who's better off?"

A. We're all different and have varying needs. Travel is an edifying and satisfying experience for the great majority of folks who seem to have wanderlust and curiosity about the world. But those who lack these qualities and find contentment at home with pets and plants probably derive just as much happiness.

Q. "What is the leading scientific journal in geriatrics, and where can it be obtained?"

A. It's the "Journal of Gerontology" published monthly by the Gerontological Society, 660 So. Euclid Ave., St. Louis, Mo. ($15 per year).

Damage Award Affirmed In Bar Stool Fall Injury Suit

The State Supreme Court Friday affirmed a jury verdict in a Douglas County damage suit resulting from injuries suffered when a man fell from a bar stool.

William Nownes, a 36-year-old Omaha carpenter, was awarded $6,000 in damages for a permanent back injury suffered in a fall in the Hillside Lounge at 8037 Blondo St. on Oct. 25, 1961.

"The evidence does not support the defendant's theory that the defect (in the bar stool) was latent or concealed and the result of ordinary wear and tear," the high court said. "If the defendant had exercised proper care, the stool would not have come loose from the floor while a customer was using it."

The court held that the stool tipped over because a metal plate securing the stool to the floor came loose.

In another ruling Friday the court:

—Overturned Platte County District Court ruling in a dispute over ownership of a tract of land totaling about 4.7 acres.

The high court ordered that title to the land be awarded to La Vern Bender and others, owners to a tract of land adjacent to the disputed property, who acquired the 4.7 acres in a partition suit.

The lower court had ruled for Mary S. Fuchs, who attempted to block the partition by claiming ownership of the tract.

"We fail to see how defendant (Mrs. Fuchs) is entitled to any relief in equity under these circumstances," the Supreme Court held. "She stood by in silence when the land was sold persuant to the government survey. She accepted her share of the proceeds to which she was entitled under the judgment of partition. She knew the terms of the purchase and the share of the purchase money to which she was entitled, which she accepted."

Busy Lincoln Star Carrier Honored

Never a spare moment seems to be the story of the life of Lincoln Star carrier Dennis Loewenstein, who busies himself with many activities and hobbies in addition to his morning newspaper route.

Selected as outstanding Lincoln Star city carrier in connection with National Newspaperboy Day Saturday, Dennis has gained six daily and nine Sunday subscriptions since he took over his route in January.

Dennis has acquired an additional hobby since he became a route salesman — Tareyton and Winston. These are the names of two rabbits, one of which he found while delivering papers.

Dennis said he kept the rabbit after attempts to identify its owner were unsuccessful. He then purchased a second rabbit and uses some of his $25 profit every four weeks to buy food for them and his guppies.

He is now saving to buy a 10 to 15-gallon aquarium for his guppies which are among his many hobbies He also has a stamp collection, does wire sculpture and tooth pick construction

Being an outstanding newspaperboy, Dennis used some of his profit to buy a watch to insure that he gets his newspapers delivered promptly.

Dennis is a member of Boy Scout Troop 9 and is a first-class patrol leader He is anxiously looking forward to attending the North Star District Camporee at Louisville this month

Dennis is also a sports enthusiast He played with the Little Chiefs last summer and is hoping to play basketball in Hi-Y this year.

He also enjoys fishing and says he caught quite a number of fish this summer at a dam about two miles east of his home at 2724 Anderson Drive.

A seventh-grader at Pound Junior High, Dennis says he likes science and spends much spare time reading both science and science fiction He plans to be a dentist

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Loewenstein, Dennis has three sisters, Delaine, 15, Dearwyn, 17 and Dianne, who is married

"Top" carriers from each Nebraska newspaper will be honored Saturday at a luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Morrison at the governor's mansion.

Other activities planned for the carriers Saturday include tours of Morrill Hall, the State Capitol, Nebraska State Penitentiary and other points of interest around the city.

Boyd Voters Face Courthouse Issue

Butte (AP) — Voters will decide the fate Oct. 26 of a $125,000 bond issue to help finance a new Boyd County courthouse

Total cost of the proposed building would be $205,000.

Musselman Assumes Group Presidency

New York (UPI) — Dr. Merle M. Musselman of Omaha Friday assumed the presidency of the Frederick A Coller Surgical Society at the group's annual meeting here.

He is professor and chairman of the department of surgery at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

Some Colleges Require Standard Achievement Tests

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

How much did you learn in your high school courses? How much do you still remember?

Does your A grade mean that you crammed for examinations and now remember little of the courses? Or does it mean that you really mastered the course?

Does a B grade from Central High mean the same as a B grade from Northwest High?

In an attempt to level off differences such as indicated here and give every student applicant a fair appraisal, some colleges require nationally standardized achievement tests in subject matter, as distinguished from the aptitude tests discussed in our last article.

These are tests for which you can prepare. There are ways too of controlling your thinking while taking such tests to help you improve your scores

In general, reviews for all examinations are valuable in that they bring pertinent formulas and ideas into a ready recall position in your memory. But don't try cramming—it's futile! The last night before an examination should be used for sleep and rest

Your method of approach to multiple choice questions is critical. If you half read the question and immediately thereafter proceed to try out the answers one by one you are almost sure to be misled. Possible answers are selected by the test makers so that any misreading of the question will make one wrong answer seem right.

Study the question thoroughly. Determine what type of answer is required Only then, and while holding the question in mind, consider the suggested answers.

In the case of numerical problems in which pencil and paper solutions may be required, don't hesitate to use them Trying to solve problems "mentally" does not save time'

A description of the College Board Achievement Tests may be obtained for 50 cents a copy from College Entrance Examination Board, c/o Educational Testing Service, Box 592 Princeton, N.J., or P.O. Box 1025 Berkeley, Calif. 94704.

IT'S OPEN HOUSE at Your Church

...it appears our world needs a lot of 'fixin up'." Too often, too many of us do our day-to-day job in a half-hearted way. We lose our perspective... our relationship to the world. We get to feeling our importance. Right there is our un-doing. When a man loses humility, he is on the way out. This man, with his wrench, looks at the world from way up. He wonders if he did his best on the foundation underneath him... if the high walls will support the structure he is atop. Both are basic to good building. The church, too, is necessary in the building of character, in the transforming of souls. It will help us greatly in the training of people to help fix our world. It will make good stewards of us who will be more anxious to share the fruit of the vine. So let us attend church or Synagogue every week. Let us, in earnest, help this man 'fix up' our world.

BRIDE
at evening service

All-white gladioli and lighted white candles formed the background in Vine Congregational Church Friday evening, Oct. 15, for the wedding of Miss Wanda Lynn Hoffart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert E. Hoffart, and James Allan Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Lawson. The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Verne Spindell.

Bell-skirted frocks of blue silk were worn by the attendants who were Mrs. Jerry Odom as the matron of honor; Mrs. Robert Knopp, the bridesmatron'; and the bridesmaids, Miss Georgia Borgens, Miss Darleue Hoffart and Miss Sharon Sommer. They carried white carnations frilled with blue net.

Serving as best man was Douglas Oxenhardt, and seating the guests were Dennis Wertz, Robert Thompson, Roger Ripley and John Walker.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose traditional white satin. Petal appliques of satin touched the rounding neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the applique trim was repeated on the skirt of conrtolled fullness, which was completed by a panel train of the satin. A crown of lace and pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a nosegay of pink roses.

Mr. Lawson and his bride will make their home at 1948 F.

NEWS
of the suburban areas

Lincoln goes undercover this weekend. With the football activity moving into Wildcat counrty, one might have the idea that the city would be lifeless. But anyone with that thought is in for a surprise. There are guests and there are parties in suburbia.

MEADOW LANE

Todd John Petri, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petri, celebrated his first birthday Wednesday with a party for his friends and their mothers. But what started out as a single celebration for one birthday turned into a triple feature. Two of Todd's guests were also having birthdays. Bary Heitbrink, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heitbrink, and Vicki Brodd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Brodd, also had gained a year during the week. And their ages now are — why one year of course.

Guests at the Petri home were Mrs. Heitbrink, Mrs. Brodd, Mrs. Edwin Martin and her daughters Camilla and Lisa.

Helping their grandson to blow out his candle were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schutte of Fremont. Also present was Todd's great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Preisinger.

EASTRIDGE

A Lincoln family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deeds, and a family from the sandhills—Mrs. Deed's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Pound of Brownlee, got together this week to watch the World Series and to do some visiting. Mr. and Mrs. Pound left for home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVell Swarts are getting some well deserved rest this weekend after entertaining several guests last Saturday and Sunday. Guests for the football game Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kautzman of Stanton who were accompanied by their son Tim.

Sunday dinner was a family affair. Mr. Swarts' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Miller of Alvo and Mr. Swarts' brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swarts of Ashland came to Lincoln to join the family group.

In The Service Circles

BY SUE DRAKE

The officers' wives of Lincoln Air Force Base will have the opportunity to "Stump the Panel" next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Officers' Club.

The theme for the informal affair is 'Proceed With Poise," and the members of the panel, Mrs. Clifford J. Moore, Mrs. Louie Franklin, Mrs. John Allison, and Mrs. Lyle Knight, are preparing for a delightful morning. All officers' wives are invited and encouraged to come prepared with their questions and join in the fun.

A date to keep in mind is the evening of Nov. 10, when the members of Officers' Wives' Club invite their husbands to a "Champagne Ball" to be held at the Officers' Club.

Mrs. Thomas Boles was a bridge hostess on Thursday at the Officers' Club when she entertained a group of her friends.

Composing the two tables were Mrs. Peter Vuchetich, Mrs. Raymond Palmer, Mrs. Joseph Hallis, Mrs. Monte Davis, Mrs. Richard Carver, Mrs. Milton Melland, and Mrs. Robert Hansen.

Holding the high score for the afternoon play was Mrs. Hansen, while Mrs. Palmer won the traveling prize.

The officers of the 345th Bombardment Squadron and their wives are at Offutt Air Force Base today touring the Strategic Air Command Headquarters.

Lt. and Mrs. Golda Eldridge have as their LAFB houseguest, Mrs. Eldridge's mother, Mrs. A. R. Robertson, of Stanford, Ky.

Visiting with Capt. and Mrs. Lauri F. Parsinnen last week were Mrs. Parsinnen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wiedelman, of Detroit, Mich. Also visiting from Detroit was Mrs. Parsinnen's aunt, Mrs. E. J. Barnhart.

Mrs. Charles Bopp was hostess at bridge this week. Her guests for the affair were Mrs. Larry Wiles, Mrs. Donald Brown, Mrs. Terry Bradley, Mrs. Charles Gaines, Mrs. Richard Williams, Mrs. Adam Rech, and Mrs. Connie Nadden.

Concluding the play with the high score was Mrs. Gaines.

Mrs. George Bennet invited a group of friends to her LAFB quarters to introduce her sister, Mrs. Steve Purchinski, of New York, to the group.

Enjoying the coffee were Mrs. William Bartlett, Mrs. Raymond Bryan, her mother, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Bryan's mother-in-law, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Howard Moore, Mrs. Allan Burt, Mrs. Richard Carver, her mother, Mrs. Maury, and Mrs. Louise Conti.

Concluding the afternoon with the high score was Mrs. David L. Beatty, while Mrs. Julius Washington held the second-high score. Mrs. Lyle Knight won the consolation prize.

Hostesses for the affair will be Mrs. Stanley Toney, Mrs. George Riley, Mrs. Donald Brown, and Mrs. Joseph Massa.

Mrs. Gordon Ziegler was a hostess recently at the Officers' Club, when she invited a group of her friends to coffee and to meet her mother, Mrs. Doyle Copeland of Glendale, Calif., who with Mr. Copeland, is a guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter.

Welcoming Mrs. Copeland to Lincoln Air Force Base were Mrs. Clifford J. Moore, Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, Mrs. Wallace Collins, Mrs. Louie Franklin, Mrs. Lynn Johnson, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Dan Snow, Mrs. Clifford Clark, Mrs. Billie Myhand, Mrs. Gary Younkin, Mrs. Walter Nickerson, Mrs. Jack Hover, Mrs. Richard Thompson, Mrs. Roger Keeney, Mrs. Robert Becker, Mrs. Raymond Witt, and Mrs. Jerry Eustace.

Maj. and Mrs. James Lawler entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening with their guests being Maj. and Mrs. David Johnson and Capt. and Mrs. Ed Campbell.

Mrs. L. J. Bartlett was a hostess at her LAFB quarters when she entertained a group of her friends from the nursing staff of Lincoln General Hospital.

Her guests for the afternoon affair were Miss Carol Bursen, Miss Lori Sherrill, Miss Ruth Kowalski, and Miss Lynn Jorgensen.

Lt. and Mrs. Gerald Yokom recently returned to their LAFB quarters after a vacation on the west coast. They visited with friends and relatives in Seattle, Wash., and with Mrs. Yokom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hazen, in Walla Walla.

DEAR ABBY: Last week I met the cutest guy I've ever seen. He was working on a job near my uncle's farm on a government program called the Job Corps. A bunch of guys are assigned to a certain project and they all work and live together. Well, these guys get awful lonesome, and I would like to get a job doing something in that same Job Corps, but they say they don't take girls. I cried my eyes out when I got home because I knew I'd probably never see this guy again. I didn't get his last name, but I gave him my name, address and telephone number.

Why doesn't the government let girls sign up for something in the same outfit so the guys won't be so lonesome?

BRIDE

All-white gladioli and lighted white candles formed the background in Vine Congregational Church Friday evening, Oct. 15, for the wedding of Miss Wanda Lynn Hoffart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert E. Hoffart, and James Allan Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Lawson. The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Verne Spindell.

Bell-skirted frocks of blue silk were worn by the attendants who were Mrs. Jerry Odom as the matron of honor; Mrs. Robert Knopp, the bridesmatron; and the bridesmaids, Miss Georgia Borgens, Miss Darlene Hoffart and Miss Sharon Sommer. They carried white carnations frilled with blue net.

Serving as best man was Douglas Oxenhardt, and seating the guests were Dennis Wertz, Robert Thompson, Roger Ripley and John Walker.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose traditional white satin. Petal appliques of satin touched the rounding neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the applique trim was repeated on the skirt of conrtolled fullness, which was completed by a panel train of the satin. A crown of lace and pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a nosegay of pink roses.

Mr. Lawson and his bride will make their home at 1948 F.

NEWS

Lincoln goes undercover this weekend. With the football activity moving into Wildcat counrty, one might have the idea that the city would be lifeless. But anyone with that thought is in for a surprise. There are guests and there are parties in suburbia.

MEADOW LANE

Todd John Petri, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petri, celebrated his first birthday Wednesday with a party for his friends and their mothers. But what started out as a single celebration for one birthday turned into a triple feature. Two of Todd's guests were also having birthdays. Bary Heitbrink, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heitbrink, and Vicki Brodd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Brodd, also had gained a year during the week. And their ages now are — why one year of course.

Guests at the Petri home were Mrs. Heitbrink, Mrs. Brodd, Mrs. Edwin Martin and her daughters Camilla and Lisa.

Helping their grandson to blow out his candle were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schutte of Fremont. Also present was Todd's great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Preisinger.

EASTRIDGE

A Lincoln family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deeds, and a family from the sandhills—Mrs. Deed's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Pound of Brownlee, got together this week to watch the World Series and to do some visiting. Mr. and Mrs. Pound left for home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVell Swarts are getting some well deserved rest this weekend after entertaining several guests last Saturday and Sunday. Guests for the football game Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kautzman of Stanton who were accompanied by their son Tim.

Sunday dinner was a family affair. Mr. Swarts' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Miller of Alvo and Mr. Swarts' brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swarts of Ashland came to Lincoln to join the family group.

In The Service Circles

BY SUE DRAKE

The officers' wives of Lincoln Air Force Base will have the opportunity to "Stump the Panel" next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Officers' Club.

The theme for the informal affair is 'Proceed With Poise," and the members of the panel, Mrs. Clifford J. Moore, Mrs. Louie Franklin, Mrs. John Allison, and Mrs. Lyle Knight, are preparing for a delightful morning. All officers' wives are invited and encouraged to come prepared with their questions and join in the fun.

A date to keep in mind is the evening of Nov. 10, when the members of Officers' Wives' Club invite their husbands to a "Champagne Ball" to be held at the Officers' Club.

Mrs. Thomas Boles was a bridge hostess on Thursday at the Officers' Club when she entertained a group of her friends.

Composing the two tables were Mrs. Peter Vuchetich, Mrs. Raymond Palmer, Mrs. Joseph Hallis, Mrs. Monte Davis, Mrs. Richard Carver, Mrs. Milton Melland, and Mrs. Robert Hansen.

Holding the high score for the afternoon play was Mrs. Hansen, while Mrs. Palmer won the traveling prize.

The officers of the 345th Bombardment Squadron and their wives are at Offutt Air Force Base today touring the Strategic Air Command Headquarters.

Lt. and Mrs. Golda Eldridge have as their LAFB houseguest, Mrs. Eldridge's mother, Mrs. A. R. Robertson, of Stanford, Ky.

Visiting with Capt. and Mrs. Lauri F. Parsinnen last week were Mrs. Parsinnen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wiedelman, of Detroit, Mich. Also visiting from Detroit was Mrs. Parsinnen's aunt, Mrs. E. J. Barnhart.

Mrs. Charles Bopp was hostess at bridge this week. Her guests for the affair were Mrs. Larry Wiles, Mrs. Donald Brown, Mrs. Terry Bradley, Mrs. Charles Gaines, Mrs. Richard Williams, Mrs. Adam Rech, and Mrs. Connie Nadden.

Concluding the play with the high score was Mrs. Gaines.

Mrs. George Bennet invited a group of friends to her LAFB quarters to introduce her sister, Mrs. Steve Purchinski, of New York, to the group.

Enjoying the coffee were Mrs. William Bartlett, Mrs. Raymond Bryan, her mother, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Bryan's mother-in-law, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Howard Moore, Mrs. Allan Burt, Mrs. Richard Carver, her mother, Mrs. Maury, and Mrs. Louise Conti.

Concluding the afternoon with the high score was Mrs. David L. Beatty, while Mrs. Julius Washington held the second-high score. Mrs. Lyle Knight won the consolation prize.

Mrs. Gordon Ziegler was a hostess recently at the Officers' Club, when she invited a group of her friends to coffee and to meet her mother, Mrs. Doyle Copeland of Glendale, Calif., who with Mr. Copeland, is a guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter.

Welcoming Mrs. Copeland to Lincoln Air Force Base were Mrs. Clifford J. Weekend guests at the LAFB quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Ed Campbell were Maj. and Mrs. David Johnson, formerly of LAFB, of Sioux Falls, S.D.

Maj. and Mrs. James Lawler entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening with their guests being Maj. and Mrs. David Johnson and Capt. and Mrs. Ed Campbell.

Mrs. L. J. Bartlett was a hostess at her LAFB quarters when she entertained a group of her friends from the nursing staff of Lincoln General Hospital.

Her guests for the afternoon affair were Miss Carol Bursen, Miss Lori Sherrill, Miss Ruth Kowalski, and Miss Lynn Jorgensen.

Opening lead—ten of clubs.

Deception plays a vital part in the play of the cards. Declarer should try to get not only as many tricks as he is entitled to make on the merits of the hand, but also as many more as he can steal through the use of whatever deceptive tactics he is able to invent.

In much the same way, the defenders exercise their skill trying to persuade declarer that some condition exists which actually does not.

This psychological battle, all in the spirit of the game, produces repercusions. Sometimes one side triumphs, sometimes the other. This deal shows a case where East succeeded in fooling declarer by using very good strategy.

He won the club lead with the king and cashed the ace. He then returned the six of diamonds, hoping to persuade South by this play that the six was a singleton.

Declarer took the diamond with the ten and played a heart to the ace, but now did not dare lead a diamond to dummy because he was afraid that East might ruff it. Instead he played the king of hearts, hoping for a 3-2 trump break, but West showed out and South went down one.

Now let's suppose that East had returned a spade at trick three instead of a diamond. Declarer's plays would then have been virtually automatic. After cashing the ace of spades and ace of hearts, he would have taken a diamond finesse and then led a trump from dummy

When East followed low, South would presumably have made the safety play of the eight in order to be certain of losing only one trump trick. This method of play would have made the contract

It is true that South could have made the hand if he had correctly diagnosed East's line of defense, but East nevertheless gets credit for planting the thought in declarer's mind that the six of diamonds was a singleton.

American Indian Authentics Exhibition and Sale ends Saturday, October 16

We extend an invitation to our friends who have not yet taken the opportunity to visit our exhibit to join us on Saturday October 16 and see these beautiful Indian hand crafts, the Navajo rug weaver and silversmith at work and Lincoln's Wacisa Indian Dancers. Those who have enjoyed the exhibition may want to come once again to look at the fascinating displays.

WACISA INDIAN DANCERS
Saturday, October 16
2 to 3 p.m.
4th Floor Auditorium

Saturday is your last chance to see the Silversmith and Rug weaver at work. Be sure to come!

See a silversmith demonstrating the age-old skill of hand wrought silver creations. Many types of silver work are included in the exhibition.

See a Navajo rug weaver creating an original hand-loomed rug. A 3x5' rug requires over 200 hours of weaving time to complete.

Weaver May Ask For Traveling Squad Rule Change After Husker Game

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Manhattan, Kan. — Kansas State coach Doug Weaver may ask for an immediate meeting of the Big Eight faculty representatives after Nebraska leaves here late this afternoon.

Weaver's Wildcats take on the top-rated Cornhuskers in a 1:30 p.m. battle this afternoon that will be played before the first sellout crowd to watch a game here in several years.

The subject of the post-game conference could be the Big Eight's rule limiting traveling squads to 40 players.

In defeating Iowa State, 44-0, and Wisconsin. 37-0, in the past two weeks, Husker coach Bob Devaney has dipped as far into his reserve barrel as possible.

He won't be able to do this against the Wildcats, a factor that could send the score soaring against the outmanned K-Staters.

By reducing his squad to 40 players, Devaney will be able to put only one back on the field who has gained less than 3.5 yards per play.

And he can find only two who have gained less than 4.7 yards per play.

Two players both on offense and defense likely will have to go all the way with their units also. Guard LaVerne Allers and tackle Dwain Carlson have no one behind them on offense and linebacker Lynn Senkbeil and halfback Kaye Carstens face the same situation on defense.

When Devaney sends his No. 2 backfield onto the field, the Wildcats will be asked to stop quarterback Bob Churchich who is averaging 4.7 per play, fullback Charlie Winters with 4.7, right halfback Ben Gregory 6.1 and left halfback Ken Brunk 2.1.

The leader in Kansas State's hopes of stopping the Huskers is All-Big Eight defensive end Bill Matan, but he is leading a Wildcat defense that is asked to stop the nation's top rushing team with 303.8 yards per game in four previous wins this season.

The Huskers also rank third in total offense with 422 yards per game. Missouri moved through the Wildcat line well enough last week to take over second place in national rushing figures with 297.3 yards per game.

Kansas State came up with a new offense against Missouri in last week's 28-6 loss and will continue to run from the I Formation against the Huskers.

Kansas State has defensive end and placekicker Jerry Cook on the sidelines and tackle Willie Jones is a doubtful performer.

Lincoln High Nips Knights, 12-6, In Defensive Showdown

Intra-City Test Rugged; First Half TDs Pay Off

. . . AT SEACREST FIELD

There was plenty of emphasis on defense Friday night when football teams from Lincoln High and Southeast clashed at Seacrest Field.

The rugged play became apparent late in the game when, the ball exchanged hands seven times in the final eight minutes.

And six of the exchanges were pass interceptions or fumbles. But by that time it was too late for Southeast to start a rally and the Knights fell, 12-6, to their cross-town rival Links.

Coach Andy Loehr's LHS eleven scored a TD in each of the first two periods and held on to run the season mark to 4-1-1.

Actually, Southeast's possession of the ball late in the game proved very little because the Knights were always in poor field position within their own 30-yard line.

Lincoln High wasted little time getting to paydirt. Mike Delaney put SE in a big hole when he punted for LHS and the ball went out of bounds at the three.

The Knights were forced to return the punt moments later and Lincoln High was at the SE 34. The Links were pushed back to the 49 by a 15-yard penalty. But on the next play senior Charles Garrett exploded for a 41-yard run to the eight.

Early in the second period the Links struck again and this time covered 80 yards in only five plays which had the Knights reeling.

Steve Henneman took a Worster pass which covered 30 yards and then Jim Riggins rambled 35 for the TD after getting a great block from King.

Lincoln High saw an on-side second half kickoff backfire which put the Knights on the scoreboard. The Knights wound up with the pigskin on the Lincoln High 39 after the short kick and a roughing penalty.

After two running plays produced short yardage, Southeast quarterback Tom Kos arched a perfect 33-yard scoring strike to Jon Roberts.

That ended the scoring for the night although Lincoln High had one other golden opportunity. The Links drove from the SE 44 to the six, but Worster fumbled the ball and Knight Paul Benson pounced on it to halt the maneuver.

Creighton Prep Stops Pius, 20-13

. . . DRAW PLAY WINS FOR JUNIOR JAYS

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Omaha Creighton Prep roared from behind in the fourth quarter on the brilliant passing of senior quarterback Mike Danze to defeat No. 2 ranked Lincoln Pius X, 20-13, at Pius Field Friday night.

With Creighton trailing 13-6, Danze completed four of five passes in the final period for 53 yards. One of the passes was good for the tying touchdown.

The first time the Junior Blue Jays got the ball in the fourth quarter, they began a sustained march from their own 35 to the Pius 11, in 11 plays, and on the next play from scrimmage, Danze faded back, found end Ted Scholtz hit him with a touchdown pass. The extra point kick by Jim Bosiljevac tied the game and fired up the Creighton players.

After an unsuccessful onside kick attempt, a wild-eyed Prep defensive line caused Pius fullback Kim Wheeler to fumble on the first play from scrimmage and recovered the ball on the Pius 42 yard line.

After halfback Gary Roberts had picked up three yards on a run and Pius had been penalized 15 yards for pass interference, fullback Phil Bruning took to the outside on a draw play and went 24 yards for the winning TD. Bosiljevac's extra point put the game out of the Thunderbolts' reach.

After winning the toss of the coin, Pius looked like it was going to waste no time getting far ahead, marching 76 yards on the first series of downs for the first touchdown. The march was climaxed by quarterback John McEniry's 16-yard touchdown on a quarterback option and was concluded by Bill Rierden's extra point kick.

The second time the Thunderbolts got the ball, however, Prep made it evident that it was going to be no pushover. Using a seven man line, the Junior Jays thwarted the highly regarded Pius running attack and caused the Thunderbolts to kick.

Getting the ball, Prep immediately took to the air as Danze hit Bosiljevac on a 19 yard pass play, taking the ball to the Pius 43.

After running two plays to no avail, Danze took to the air again, hitting Holtz for a nine yard gain and a first down as the first quarter ended.

Pius took the ball from its own 39 after the kickoff to the Creighton one yard line in 13 plays where Wheeler crashed into the end zone to put Pius further ahead. Rierden missed the conversion attempt.

Although Pius outrushed Prep 148 yards to 111, the seven man Creighton line was able to stop the Thunderbolts on crucial downs. Furthermore, Danze hit 11 of 16 passes—mostly short ones—for 122 yards while Pius could muster only 36 yards in the air, completing two of seven.

Pius, which had lost only to No. 1 ranked Boys Town, meets Fairbury at Pius field next Friday for homecoming.

Defenseman, Forward Sign With Rangers

Kingston, Ont. (AP)—Defenseman Jim Neilson and forward John Brenneman signed contracts Friday with the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

Neilson, beginning his fourth season with the Rangers, recorded 12 assists in 1964-65. Brenneman, a second-year left wing who came to New York in a trade with Chicago last winter, had four goals and three assists for seven points.

Lynn To Miss Game

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—Defensive end Tom Lynn, who has an injured knee in a cast, appears to be definitely out of Saturday's game with UCLA here, Missouri coach Dan Devine said. Reserve quarterback Gary Kombrink, nursing an old heel injury, remains on the doubtful list.

Schooling Brings Franz To Lincoln

. . . MOVE NETS IMPROVING SPLIT END FOR COMETS

Football has become very important to Rod Franz. But so have some lofty ambitions. They leave State College of Iowa without a star halfback—the Lincoln Comets with an improving split end.

Franz, who started the season for the Comets at flanker back, wants to become a child psychologist some day, complete with a Master's Degree and a Ph.D.

But before anybody gets those distinctive diplomas, there's the B.A. The Des Moines native couldn't get one in psychology over at SCI, so he transferred to Nebraska, where he could, even though he had two years of football eligibility left.

"I thought I was going to have to give up football," Franz says. "But then I just sort of fell into the Comets and it's worked out real well.

"A couple of guys mentioned playing with the Comets to me," he says. "At first I didn't think much about it. But I had some friends going out, so I thought I'd give it a try."

It's worked out nicely for the Comets, too. Franz is turning in some sparkling play lately, making an average of four pass receptions a game.

It was in the first Des Moines game, the third of the season, that Franz got going. He took two Doug Tucker passes in for touchdowns, the only two for the Comets in a 20-16 loss.

And it was against an old friend. The Warriors' Rick DeHecht was the defender on him but couldn't keep up. DeHecht and Franz knew each other back in junior high days but split up for high school.

The two will renew their private battle Sunday at Seacrest Field at 4:30 p.m. when the Warriors invade the Comets.

Franz got his college football start at Nebraska but "Kent McCloughan was a sophomore then and Ted Vactor was ahead of me on the freshman team, so I decided to go to SCI."

"I'm glad I've had this chance to play again," Franz says. "We've played some good first halves but then they just sort of wear us down. We just don't have the depth which always is the case when you have a first year team."

Franz says he's playing this season more for fun than money. "Most of the guys just want to play," he says. "Most of them just love the game."

Franz will get his share of loot with his Ph.D.

Two More Rifle Deer Units Sold Out Of Permits

Two more rifle deer units sold out of permits during the week, the Game Commission reported Friday.

Upper Platte, with 36 permits, and Gifford, with 11, closed out as the Commission processed 616 rifel deer and 93 archery permits. Licensed bowmen now number 2,299. Only 1,886 rifle permits remain of the 24,150 originally authorized.

Areas with permits remaining are Pine Ridge, 490; Plains, 768; Platte, 27; Sand Hills, 515; and Valentine, 86.

On the turkey front, the Commission issued 70 permits, bringing down to 237 the number remaining. Originally, 2,325 were allocated for the Oct. 30 through Nov. 7 [illegible] Units with permits remaining are Niobrara, 76; Round Top, 133; and Wild Cat, 28.

Wesleyan Meets Doane In Quest Of Fifth Win

The Tigers and Plainsmen meet here tonight with kickoff slated for 7:30 p.m.

"There's nobody Doane would rather beat than us," Coach Ray Westover said as he warned his win-minded team against over confidence.

"They'll be up for this game," Westover declared. "Everyone will have to give us his best performance."

Westover said Bob Parker, 205-pound sophomore, will move into the starting offensive lineup for injured Bob Olson. Olson, who tore ligaments in his left knee last Saturday, will probably be out two weeks.

Also expected to be sidelined is Dwight Tietjen, who suffered a severe ankle sprain against St. Mary.

Others who might miss action or see limited duty are Doug Dworak and Dennis Gordon, both defensive safeties.

Bill Rohrig, who put on a running show the first quarter against Colorado College, is the Plainsmen's leading rusher with 319 yards in 38 carries.

He'll be matched against Doane's fullback, Stan Mullin, who has rushed for 298 yards for a 4.6 average.

Doane has recorded only one win this season, but made an impressive defensive showing in holding powerful Hastings to a 3-0 win. Other losses were to Yankton (32-0) and Dakota Wesleyan (33-13).

The Plainsmen have a six-game win streak, dating back to the final two games of last year. Victims so far this fall have been Midland, 19-6, Dana, 27-7, St. Mary, 66-12, and Colorado College, 20-7.

NWU holds a 26-20 edge in the series with Doane College with 4 ties. The Plainsmen have won the last two years by scores of 13-0 in 1963 and 14-0 in 19[illegible]

Weather Causes Slight Delay At Salt Flats, Utah

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah (AP) — Rain and snow prevented runs by rocket or jet powered races Friday at the Western Utah salt flats.

The forecast was for more of the same, making it doubtful whether Craig Breedlove would try again to break the world land speed record this week.

Breedlove got his jet car up to 534 miles an hour Thursday, just 2 m.p.h. short of the record. But the nose section of his car caved in and he could not make another run.

Cannon Salute After Touchdown To Be Banned

Champaign, Ill. (AP) — The Army has ordered an end to the traditional cannon salute after home team touchdowns at University of Illinois football games.

The order from Gen. Paul Freeman Jr., commanding general of the Continental Army Command, said it was prompted by a recent serious injury to a civilian as the result of the firing of an Army howitzer. There was no elaboration.

Weaver May Ask For Traveling Squad Rule Change After Husker Game

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Manhattan, Kan. — Kansas State coach Doug Weaver may ask for an immediate meeting of the Big Eight faculty representatives after Nebraska leaves here late this afternoon.

Weaver's Wildcats take on the top-rated Cornhuskers in a 1:30 p.m. battle this afternoon that will be played before the first sellout crowd to watch a game here in several years.

The subject of the post-game conference could be the Big Eight's rule limiting traveling squads to 40 players.

In defeating Iowa State, 44-0, and Wisconsin, 37-0, in the past two weeks, Husker coach Bob Devaney has dipped as far into his reserve barrel as possible.

He won't be able to do this against the Wildcats, a factor that could send the score soaring against the outmanned K-Staters.

By reducing his squad to 40 players, Devaney will be able to put only one back on the field who has gained less than 3.5 yards per play.

And he can find only two who have gained less than 4.7 yards per play.

Two players both on offense and defense likely will have to go all the way with their units also. Guard LaVerne Allers and tackle Dwain Carlson have no one behind them on offense and linebacker Lynn Senkbeil and halfback Kaye Carstens face the same situation on defense.

When Devaney sends his No. 2 backfield onto the field, the Wildcats will be asked to stop quarterback Bob Churchich who is averaging 4.7 per play, fullback Charlie Winters with 4.7, right halfback Ben Gregory 6.1 and left halfback Ken Brunk 2.1.

The leader in Kansas State's hopes of stopping the Huskers is All-Big Eight defensive end Bill Matan, but he is leading a Wildcat defense that is asked to stop the nation's top rushing team with 303.8 yards per game in four previous wins this season.

The Huskers also rank third in total offense with 422 yards per game. Missouri moved through the Wildcat line well enough last week to take over second place in national rushing figures with 297.3 yards per game.

Kansas State came up with a new offense against Missouri in last week's 28-6 loss and will continue to run from the I Formation against the Huskers.

Kansas State has defensive end and placekicker Jerry Cook on the sidelines and tackle Willie Jones is a doubtful performer.

Lincoln High Nips Knights, 12-6, In Defensive Showdown

Intra-City Test Rugged; First Half TDs Pay Off

. . . AT SEACREST FIELD

There was plenty of emphasis on defense Friday night when football teams from Lincoln High and Southeast clashed at Seacrest Field.

The rugged play became apparent late in the game when the ball exchanged hands seven times in the final eight minutes.

And six of the exchanges were pass interceptions or fumbles. But by that time it was too late for Southeast to start a rally and the Knights fell, 12-6, to their cross-town rival Links.

Coach Andy Loehr's LHS eleven scored a TD in each of the first two periods and held on to run the season mark to 4-1-1.

Actually, Southeast's possession of the ball late in the game proved very little because the Knights were always in poor field position within their own 30-yard line.

Lincoln High wasted little time getting to paydirt. Mike Delaney put SE in a big hole when he punted for LHS and the ball went out of bounds at the three.

The Knights were forced to return the punt moments later and Lincoln High was at the SE 34. The Links were pushed back to the 49 by a 15-yard penalty. But on the next play senior Charles Garrett exploded for a 41-yard run to the eight.

Early in the second period the Links struck again and this time covered 80 yards in only five plays which had the Knights reeling.

Lincoln High saw an on-side second half kickoff backfire which put the Knights on the scoreboard. The Knights wound up with the pigskin on the Lincoln High 39 after the short kick and a roughing penalty.

After two running plays produced short yardage, Southeast quarterback Tom Kos arched a perfect 33-yard scoring strike to Jon Roberts.

That ended the scoring for the night although Lincoln High had one other golden opportunity. The Links drove from the SE 44 to the six, but Worster fumbled the ball and Knight Paul Benson pounced on it to halt the maneuver.

Creighton Prep Stops Pius, 20-13

. . . DRAW PLAY WINS FOR JUNIOR JAYS

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Omaha Creighton Prep roared from behind in the fourth quarter on the brilliant passing of senior quarterback Mike Danze to defeat No. 2 ranked Lincoln Pius X, 20-13, at Pius Field Friday night.

With Creighton trailing 13-6, Danze completed four of five passes in the final period for 53 yards. One of the passes was good for the tying touchdown.

The first time the Junior Blue Jays got the ball in the fourth quarter, they began a sustained march from their own 35 to the Pius 11, in 11 plays, and on the next play from scrimmage, Danze faded back, found end Ted Scholtz hit him with a touchdown pass. The extra point kick by Jim Bosiljevac tied the game and fired up the Creighton players.

After an unsuccessful on-side kick attempt, a wild-eyed Prep defensive line caused Pius fullback Kim Wheeler to fumble on the first play from scrimmage and recovered the ball on the Pius 42 yard line.

After halfback Gary Roberts had picked up three yards on a run and Pius had been penalized 15 yards for pass interference, fullback Phil Bruning took to the outside on a draw play and went 24 yards for the winning TD. Bosiljevac's extra point put the game out of the Thunderbolts' reach.

After winning the toss of the coin, Pius looked like it was going to waste no time getting far ahead, marching 76 yards on the first series of downs for the first touchdown. The march was climaxed by quarterback John McEniry's 16-yard touchdown on a quarterback option and was concluded by Bill Rierden's extra point kick.

The second time the Thunderbolts got the ball, however, Prep made it evident that it was going to be no pushover. Using a seven man line, the Junior Jays thwarted the highly regarded Pius running attack and caused the Thunderbolts to kick.

Getting the ball, Prep immediately took to the air as Danze hit Bosiljevac on a 19 yard pass play, taking the ball to the Pius 43.

After running two plays to no avail, Danze took to the air again, hitting Holtz for a nine yard gain and a first down as the first quarter ended.

Pius took the ball from its own 39 after the kickoff to the Creighton one yard line in 13 plays where Wheeler crashed into the end zone to put Pius further ahead. Rierden missed the conversion attempt.

Although Pius outrushed Prep 148 yards to 111, the seven man Creighton line was able to stop the Thunderbolts on crucial downs. Furthermore, Danze hit 11 of 16 passes—mostly short ones—for 122 yards while Pius could muster only 36 yards in the air, completing two of seven.

Pius, which had lost only to No. 1 ranked Boys Town, meets Fairbury at Pius field next Friday for homecoming.

Defenseman, Forward Sign With Rangers

Neilson, beginning his fourth season with the Rangers, recorded 12 assists in 1964-65. Brenneman, a second-year left wing who came to New York in a trade with Chicago last winter, had four goals and three assists for seven points.

Lynn To Miss Game

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—Defensive end Tom Lynn, who has an injured knee in a cast, appears to be definitely out of Saturday's game with UCLA here, Missouri coach Dan Devine said. Reserve quarterback Gary Kombrink, nursing an old heel injury, remains on the doubtful list.

Norfolk JC Hits Fort Dodge, 14-6

Fort Dodge, Iowa (AP)—Norfolk Junior College defeated Fort Dodge, Iowa JC 14-6 Friday night in a game which saw scoring limited to the second period.

Schooling Brings Franz To Lincoln

. . . MOVE NETS IMPROVING SPLIT END FOR COMETS

Football has become very important to Rod Franz. But so have some lofty ambitions. They leave State College of Iowa without a star halfback—the Lincoln Comets with an improving split end.

Franz, who started the season for the Comets at flanker back, wants to become a child psychologist some day, complete with a Master's Degree and a Ph.D.

But before anybody gets those distinctive diplomas, there's the B.A. The Des Moines native couldn't get one in psychology over at SCI, so he transferred to Nebraska, where he could, even though he had two years of football eligibility left.

"I thought I was going to have to give up football," Franz says. "But then I just sort of fell into the Comets and it's worked out real well.

"A couple of guys mentioned playing with the Comets to me," he says. "At first I didn't think much about it. But I had some friends going out, so I thought I'd give it a try."

It's worked out nicely for the Comets, too. Franz is turning in some sparkling play lately, making an average of four pass receptions a game.

It was in the first Des Moines game, the third of the season, that Franz got going. He took two Doug Tucker passes in for touchdowns, the only two for the Comets in a 20-16 loss.

And it was against an old friend. The Warriors' Rick DeHecht was the defender on him but couldn't keep up. DeHecht and Franz knew each other back in junior high days but split up for high school.

The two will renew their private battle Sunday at Seacrest Field at 4:30 p.m. when the Warriors invade the Comets.

Franz got his college football start at Nebraska but "Kent McCloughan was a sophomore then and Ted Vactor was ahead of me on the freshman team, so I decided to go to SCI."

"I'm glad I've had this chance to play again," Franz says. "We've played some good first halves but then they just sort of wear us down. We just don't have the depth which always is the case when you have a first year team."

Franz says he's playing this season more for fun than money. "Most of the guys just want to play," he says. "Most of them just love the game."

Two More Rifle Deer Units Sold Out Of Permits

Two more rifle deer units sold out of permits during the week, the Game Commission reported Friday.

Upper Platte, with 36 permits, and Gifford, with 11, closed out as the Commission processed 616 rifel deer and 93 archery permits. Licensed bowmen now number 2,299. Only 1,886 rifle permits remain of the 24,150 originally authorized.

Areas with permits remaining are Pine Ridge, 490; Plains, 768; Platte, 27; Sand Hills, 515; and Valentine, 86.

On the turkey front, the Commission issued 70 permits, bringing down to 237 the number remaining. Originally, 2,325 were allocated for the Oct. 30 through Nov. 7 se[illegible]. Units with permits remaining are Niobrara, 76; Round Top, 133; and Wild Cat, 28.

Wesleyan Meets Doane In Quest Of Fifth Win

The Tigers and Plainsmen meet here tonight with kickoff slated for 7:30 p.m.

"There's nobody Doane would rather beat than us," Coach Ray Westover said as he warned his win-minded team against over confidence.

"They'll be up for this game," Westover declared. "Everyone will have to give us his best performance."

Westover said Bob Parker, 205-pound sophomore, will move into the starting offensive lineup for injured Bob Olson. Olson, who tore ligaments in his left knee last Saturday, will probably be out two weeks.

Also expected to be sidelined is Dwight Tietjen, who suffered a severe ankle sprain against St. Mary.

Others who might miss action or see limited duty are Doug Dworak and Dennis Gordon, both defensive safeties.

Bill Rohrig, who put on a running show the first quarter against Colorado College, is the Plainsmen's leading rusher with 319 yards in 38 carries.

He'll be matched against Doane's fullback, Stan Mullin, who has rushed for 298 yards for a 4.6 average.

Doane has recorded only one win this season, but made an impressive defensive showing in holding powerful Hastings to a 3-0 win. Other losses were to Yankton (32-0) and Dakota Wesleyan (33-13).

The Plainsmen have a six-game win streak, dating back to the final two games of last year. Victims so far this fall have been Midland, 19-6, Dana, 27-7, St. Mary, 66-12, and Colorado College, 20-7.

NWU holds a 26-20 edge in the series with Doane College with 4 ties. The Plainsmen have won the last two years by scores of 13-0 in 1963 and 14-0 in 1964.

Weather Causes Slight Delay At Salt Flats, Utah

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah (AP) — Rain and snow prevented runs by rocket or jet powered races Friday at the Western Utah salt flats.

The forecast was for more of the same, making it doubtful whether Craig Breedlove would try again to break the world land speed record this week.

Breedlove got his jet car up to 534 miles an hour Thursday, just 2 m.p.h. short of the record. But the nose section of his car caved in and he could not make another run.

Cannon Salute After Touchdown To Be Banned

Champaign, Ill. (AP) — The Army has ordered an end to the traditional cannon salute after home team touchdowns at University of Illinois football games.

The order from Gen. Paul Freeman Jr., commanding general of the Continental Army Command, said it was prompted by a recent serious injury to a civilian as the result of the firing of an Army howitzer. There was no elaboration.

Gave Baseball A Try

Rolling Zeke Pays $102.20 In 2nd

. . . PAYOFF LARGEST OF MEET AT ATOKAD TRACK

It was the second win of the Nebraska racing meet for Rolling Zeke, who paid $102.-20, 25.80 and 11.40 across the board.

—TODAY'S TOP FOOTBALL DUEL—

Razorbacks Risk 16-Game Win String Against Texas

Fayetteville, Ark. (AP)—Top-ranked Texas, a powerhouse noted for taking advantage of opportunities, and third-ranked Arkansas, with its exceptional speed, collide Saturday in what may be college football's game of the year.

The Razorbacks, who own the nation's longest major college winning streak, 16 games, are a slight choice to knock Texas from a possible national title for the second straight year.

An overflow crowd of 42,-000 and a national television audience on NBC will watch the opening kickoff scheduled for 2:30 p.m. CST.

Probably the most interested bystander will be Nebraska, the No. 2 power and pushing Texas for the top spot. The Cornhuskers, whose 4-0 record matches the marks of Texas and Arkansas, play winless Kansas State Saturday.

The Razorbacks have won only once in 10 previous Fayetteville battles between the two giants of the Southwest Conference. That was a 16-14 decision in 1951. The Longhorns hold a 35-11 edge in the series which started in 1894.

All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis, one of six Texas starters Coach Darrell Royal says are on the doubtful list because of injuries, says he is ready to play. Nobis injured a knee in practice this week, missed Wednesday's workout but was back on the field Thursday.

Nobis says even if he can't play, he doesn't think it will hurt the Longhorns' chances of snapping the Arkansas string and extending a Texas streak to 11 straight.

"Texas never has been built around one boy and I don't think it ever will. There are too many good football players here for one man to be indispensable," Nobis said.

The Longhorns remember that defeat and what it cost them when a two-point conversion pass by quarterback Marvin Kristynik fell short with 1:25 left in the game.

Tailback Bobby Burnett and wingback Harry Jones, a pair of 9.7 sprinters in the 100-yard dash, will be the key weapons for Arkansas.

Royal has a fine team leader in Kristynik, but the Steers also count on the talents of tailback Phil Harris, one of the six starters on the doubtful list.

-KOUFAX UNANIMOUS CHOICE-

LA's Pitching Duo Heads UPI Choices

New York (UPI) — Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the National League's most effective pitching combination in 26 years, were named today to United Press International's 1965 Major League All-Star Team.

Koufax, a 26-game winner, was a unanimous selection along with center fielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, while Drysdale, a 23-game winner, out-polled Jim Grant of the Minnesota Twins, 8-6, for the No. 2 pitching berth on the team. The 49 victories by Koufax and Drysdale were the most by two pitchers on the same N.L. team since 1939.

The rest of the All-Star team is comprised of catcher Joe Torre of the Milwaukee Braves, first baseman Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants, second baseman Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds, shortstop Maury Wills of the Dodgers, third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles and outfielders Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins and Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves.

Eight of the players chosen for the team are National Leaguers and N.L. "Superiority" was affirmed by the 24 writers participating in the UPI balloting by the fact that 74.6 per cent of the votes cast for all positions went to N. L. players. There were 240 votes cast and 179 of them were for National Leaguers.

In the closest other voting, Torre won out over Earl Battey of the Twins, 15-7, Wills edged out Zoilo Versalles of the Twins, 13-9, and Robinson topped Deron John-14-6.

Koufax won 26 games and lost eight for a .765 percentage. He pitched eight shutouts, compiled a 2.04 earned run average, fired a perfect game which also was his fourth no-hitter and set an all-time major league record of 382 strikeouts in a season.

Drysdale was less sensational but a tower of strength to the Dodgers all season with a 2.78 earned run average and a 23-12 record. The 49 victories by Koufax and Drysdale were the most by a 1-2 pitching combination since 1944 when Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout won 56 games between them and the most in the N.L. since 1939 when Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer won 52 games between them.

Hannum Last To Win

Coach Alex Hannum of the San Francisco Warriors, played for six different NBA teams. His 1957-58 St. Louis Hawks was the last team to turn back the Boston Celtics for the NBA title.

NBA Iron-Man

Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers, is the only man in NBA history to play more than 1,000 games. In one 11-year stretch the former NYU star missed only three games.

Steelers Activate 2 Injured Players

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers activated fullback Clarence Peaks and defensive back Willie Daniels Friday and said they would play in Sunday's National Football League game with the St. Louis Cardinals at Pitt Stadium

Both Peaks and Daniels have been sidelined with injuries.

At the same time, the Steelers asked waivers on offensive end Duane Allen who joined the club three weeks ago from the Los Angeles Rams.

K.C. Athletics Acquire Infielder From Astros

Kansas City (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics acquired infielder Ernie Fazio from the Houston Astros Friday.

The deal completes the trade of last June 4 in which the A's sent Jim Gentile, first baseman, to Houston for $100,-000, pitcher Jessee Hickman and a player to be named later.

The $75,000 Los Angeles Open will begin the PGA 1966 winter golf tour. It's listed for Jan. 6-9 at the Rancho Municipal course

Mrs. Hulet Smith Keeps Golf Title

She finished three strokes ahead of Mrs. John Haskell of Reno, Pa., the 1964 North-South senior women's titlist.

Mrs. Smith fired a closing 80 over the par 72 Exmoor course. Her total for the three days in windy weather was 26 strokes over the women's standard.

Wymore Wins 6th, 19-7, Over Wilber

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Wymore—Larry Colgrove's 85-yard touchdown sprint in the fourth quarter lifted Wymore out of the second half doldrums Friday night as the undefeated Zephyrs put down stubborn Wilber, 19-7.

It was the sixth straight win for Wymore, ranked No. 5 in Class C entering the contest.

The first half was all Wymore but the Zephyrs had only a 13-0 margin to show for their efforts. The home club marched 72 yards in nine plays after taking the opening kickoff with Colgrove speeding the final 27 for the touchdown.

An 84-yard march was stopped after Wymore had reached the Wilber 1 yard line the next time that the Zephyrs had the ball.

But the swift Southern Nebraska Conference team was not easily discouraged as it responded with an 80-yard drive that produced a touchdown the third time it had possession. Rich Bryson, who caught a 41-yard pass to feature the drive, went the final yard to make it 13-0 in the closing seconds of the first half.

John Brummett led the Wilber surge that put the outcome in doubt in the third quarter. His runs of 11, 12, and 9 yards helped set up a 10-yard touchdown run by Gary Baehr. Then Brummett added the extra point to make it 13-7.

Brummett had kept Wilber in the contest on the strength of his excellent punting as he averaged 45 yards on 5 kicks.

Wymore, perhaps having forgotten about football during the halftime Homecoming ceremonies, bounced back again in the fourth quarter and Colgrove popped through the Wilber defense on a straight dive play and simply outran the Wilber defenders to insure the victory.

U.S. Will Enter Olympic Team In Jumping Trials

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—The United States will send its 1964 Olympic team against crack riders from four other countries in an effort to recapture the international jumping championship at the 1965 Pennsylvania Horse Show.

Although the eight-day show opened Friday, international events don't begin until Saturday, with teams from Canada, Ireland, Mexico and, hopefully Argentina, challenging the Americans.

Juan Romero Blanch, 7-year-old team captain, said the mounts were scheduled to arrive at Savannah, Ga., several days ago.

"They're still at sea, but we don't know where," he said.

Giants Release Warren Spahn

San Francisco (AP) — Veteran Warren Spahn, winner of more games than any other left-handed pitcher, was given an unconditional release Friday by the San Francisco Giants.

All other clubs in the National League had waived on the 44-year-old southpaw and the Giants' action leaves him free to make his own deal for the 1966 season.

The Giants signed Spahn, who gained his fame with the Braves in Boston and Milwaukee, after the New York Mets released him in July. He won three games for San Francisco and lost four.

The Giants signed Spahn as a free agent on July 19 after he was released in New York. He made 16 appearances for San Francisco, compiling a 3-4 record. He finished the season with an over-all record of 7-16.

He returned in 1946 with an 8-5 record, had his first 20-game season with 21-10 in 1947 and the following year helped pitch the Braves into the World Series.

The southpaw had three other 20-game seasons before moving with the Braves to Milwaukee in 1953. The 11 years from 1953-63 were best in his career including nine 20-victory seasons, two World Series, one selection for the Cy Young Award as the majors' outstanding pitcher and two no-hitters.

In 1964, he slipped to 6-13 and was sold to the Mets as pitcher and pitching coach.

The Giants also announced that pitcher Bob Garibaldi and first baseman Bob Burda had been sold to their Phoenix farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Filling the roster were righthanded pitcher Joe Overton, who had a 14-10 record last season at Tacoma, the franchise shifted to Phoenix; infielder Bob Etheridge, from their Fresno club in the California League; and outfielder Bob Bonds from Lexington of the Western Carolina League.

Woods Tennis Courts Remain Open On Sundays

Woods Tennis Courts at 33rd & J St. will continue to be open for public use on Sundays, 1:00 to 6:00 P.M. as long as weather permits.

The City Recreation Department is making arrangements for persons or groups to play tennis on Woods Courts by special appointments. There is a change in supervisors. Beginning Sunday, Mr. Bob Duffek of 3910 Washington will be in charge and he can be contacted by phone — 488-3955.

Special times for tennis can be obtained by calling Mr. Duffek or City Recreation Department, 475-2668 at Pershing Auditorium. A fee of 25 cents an hour is paid in advance and a $1.00 deposit is made on the key which can be picked up at the City Recreation office.

Letter Of Credit Filed For WBA Title Fight

Toronto (AP)—A letter of credit for $96,000 was filed Friday with All-Canada Promotions, the group staging the World Boxing Association heavyweight championship fight Nov. 1 between Ernie Terrell of Chicago and challenger George Chuvalo of Toronto.

The amount is to cover taxes, payment to the fighters and $20,000 minimum rental for the arena. It is $6,000 more than the figure demanded by Ontario Athletic Commissioner Merv McKenzie of Toronto.

—TODAY'S TOP FOOTBALL DUEL—

Razorbacks Risk 16-Game Win String Against Texas

Fayetteville, Ark. (AP)—Top-ranked Texas, a powerhouse noted for taking advantage of opportunities, and third-ranked Arkansas, with its exceptional speed, collide Saturday in what may be college football's game of the year.

The Razorbacks, who own the nation's longest major college winning streak, 16 games, are a slight choice to knock Texas from a possible national title for the second straight year.

An overflow crowd of 42,000 and a national television audience on NBC will watch the opening kickoff scheduled for 2:30 p.m. CST.

Probably the most interested bystander will be Nebraska, the No. 2 power and pushing Texas for the top spot. The Cornhuskers, whose 4-0 record matches the marks of Texas and Arkansas, play winless Kansas State Saturday.

The Razorbacks have won only once in 10 previous Fayetteville battles between the two giants of the Southwest Conference. That was a 16-14 decision in 1951. The Longhorns hold a 35-11 edge in the series which started in 1894.

All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis, one of six Texas starters Coach Darrell Royal says are on the doubtful list because of injuries, says he is ready to play. Nobis injured a knee in practice this week, missed Wednesday's workout but was back on the field Thursday.

Nobis says even if he can't play, he doesn't think it will hurt the Longhorns' chances of snapping the Arkansas string and extending a Texas streak to 11 straight.

"Texas never has been built around one boy and I don't think it ever will. There are too many good football players here for one man to be indispensable," Nobis said.

-KOUFAX UNANIMOUS CHOICE-

LA's Pitching Duo Heads UPI Choices

New York (UPI) — Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the National League's most effective pitching combination in 26 years, were named today to United Press International's 1965 Major League All-Star Team.

Koufax, a 26-game winner, was a unanimous selection along with center fielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, while Drysdale, a 23-game winner, out-polled Jim Grant of the Minnesota Twins, 8-6, for the No. 2 pitching berth on the team. The 49 victories by Koufax and Drysdale were the most by two pitchers on the same N.L. team since 1939.

The rest of the All-Star team is comprised of catcher Joe Torre of the Milwaukee Braves, first baseman Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants, second baseman Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds, shortstop Maury Wills of the Dodgers, third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles and outfielders Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins and Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves.

Eight of the players chosen for the team are National Leaguers and N.L. "Superiority" was affirmed by the 24 writers participating in the UPI balloting by the fact that 74.6 per cent of the votes cast for all positions went to N. L. players. There were 240 votes cast and 179 of them were for National Leaguers.

In the closest other voting, Torre won out over Earl Battey of the Twins, 15-7, Wills edged out Zoilo Versalles of the Twins, 13-9, and Robinson topped Deron Johnson 14-6.

Koufax won 26 games and lost eight for a .765 percentage. He pitched eight shutouts, compiled a 2.04 earned run average, fired a perfect game which also was his fourth no-hitter and set an all-time major league record of 382 strikeouts in a season.

Drysdale was less sensational but a tower of strength to the Dodgers all season with a 2.78 earned run average and a 23-12 record. The 49 victories by Koufax and Drysdale were the most by a 1-2 pitching combination since 1944 when Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout won 56 games between them and the most in the N.L. since 1939 when Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer won 52 games between them.

Coach Alex Hannum of the San Francisco Warriors, played for six different NBA teams. His 1957-58 St. Louis Hawks was the last team to turn back the Boston Celtics for the NBA title.

NBA Iron-Man

Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers, is the only man in NBA history to play more than 1,000 games. In one 11-year stretch the former NYU star missed only three games.

Steelers Activate 2 Injured Players

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers activated fullback Clarence Peaks and defensive back Willie Banuls Friday and said they would play in Sunday's National Football League game with the St. Louis Cardinals at Pitt Stadium.

Both Peaks and Daniels have been sidelined with injuries.

At the same time, the Steelers asked waivers on offensive end Duane Allen who joined the club three weeks ago from the Los Angeles Rams.

K.C. Athletics Acquire Infielder From Astros

The deal completes the trade of last June 4 in which the A's sent Jim Gentile, first baseman, to Houston for $100,000, pitcher Jessee Hickman and a player to be named later.

Mrs. Hulet Smith Keeps Golf Title

She finished three strokes ahead of Mrs. John Haskell of Reno, Pa., the 1964 North-South senior women's titlist.

Mrs. Smith fired a closing 80 over the par 72 Exmoor course. Her total for the three days in windy weather was 26 strokes over the women's standard.

—COLGROVE STARS—

Wymore Wins 6th, 19-7, Over Wilber

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Wymore—Larry Colgrove's 85-yard touchdown sprint in the fourth quarter lifted Wymore out of the second half doldrums Friday night as the undefeated Zephyrs put down stubborn Wilber, 19-7.

It was the sixth straight win for Wymore, ranked No. 5 in Class Centering the contest.

The first half was all Wymore but the Zephyrs had only a 13-0 margin to show for their efforts. The home club marched 72 yards in nine plays after taking the opening kickoff with Colgrove speeding the final 27 for the touchdown.

An 84-yard march was stopped after Wymore had reached the Wilber 1 yard line the next time that the Zephyrs had the ball.

But the swift Southern Nebraska Conference team was not easily discouraged as it responded with an 80-yard drive that produced a touchdown the third time it had possession. Rich Bryson, who caught a 41-yard pass to feature the drive, went the final yard to make it 13-0 in the closing seconds of the first half.

John Brummett led the Wilber surge that put the outcome in doubt in the third quarter. His runs of 11, 12, and 9 yards helped set up a 10-yard touchdown run by Gary Baehr. Then Brummett added the extra point to make it 13-7.

Brummett had kept Wilber in the contest on the strength of his excellent punting as he averaged 45 yards on 5 kicks.

Wymore, perhaps having forgotten about football during the halftime Homecoming ceremonies, bounced back again in the fourth quarter and Colgrove popped through the Wilber defense on a straight dive play and simply outran the Wilber defenders to insure the victory.

U.S. Will Enter Olympic Team In Jumping Trials

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—The United States will send its 1964 Olympic team against crack riders from four other countries in an effort to recapture the international jumping championship at the 1965 Pennsylvania Horse Show.

Although the eight-day show opened Friday, international events don't begin until Saturday, with teams from Canada, Ireland, Mexico and, hopefully Argentina, challenging the Americans.

Juan Romero Blanch, 7-year-old team captain, said the mounts were scheduled to arrive at Savannah, Ga., several days ago.

"They're still at sea, but we don't know where," he said.

San Francisco (AP) — Veteran Warren Spahn, winner of more games than any other left-handed pitcher, was given an unconditional release Friday by the San Francisco Giants.

All other clubs in the National League had waived on the 44-year-old southpaw and the Giants' action leaves him free to make his own deal for the 1966 season.

The Giants signed Spahn, who gained his fame with the Braves in Boston and Milwaukee, after the New York Mets released him in July. He won three games for San Francisco and lost four.

In a career dating back to 1942, he won 363 games, most ever for a left-hander and sixth on the all-time list.

The Giants signed Spahn as a free agent on July 19 after he was released in New York. He made 16 appearances for San Francisco, compiling a 3-4 record. He finished the season with an over-all record of 7-16.

Although he broke into the majors in 1942 with the Boston Braves, he failed to get a decision before military service during World War II.

He returned in 1946 with an 8-5 record, had his first 20-game season with 21-10 in 1947 and the following year helped pitch the Braves into the World Series.

The southpaw had three other 20-game seasons before moving with the Braves to Milwaukee in 1953. The 11 years from 1953-63 were best in his career including nine 20-victory seasons, two World Series, one selection for the Cy Young Award as the majors' outstanding pitcher and two no-hitters.

In 1964, he slipped to 6-13 and was sold to the Mets as pitcher and pitching coach.

The Giants also announced that pitcher Bob Garibaldi and first baseman Bob Burda had been sold to their Phoenix farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Filling the roster were righthanded pitcher Joe Overton, who had a 14-10 record last season at Tacoma, the franchise shifted to Phoenix; infielder Bob Etheridge, from their Fresno club in the California League; and outfielder Bob Bonds from Lexington of the Western Carolina League.

Etheridge hit .329 in 159 games and Bonds hit .323 in 112. Etheridge had 10 homers and Bonds 25.

Letter Of Credit Filed For WBA Title Fight

Toronto (AP)—A letter of credit for $96,000 was filed Friday with All-Canada Promotions, the group staging the World Boxing Association heavyweight championship fight Nov. 1 between Ernie Terrell of Chicago and challenger George Chuvalo of Toronto.

The amount is to cover taxes, payment to the fighters and $20,000 minimum rental for the arena. It is $6,000 more than the figure demanded by Ontario Athletic Commissioner Merv McKenzie of Toronto.

Eyes Of Nebraska On Texas-Arkansas Game

. . . MICHIGAN STATE FACES BUCKEYES; PURDUE MEETS MICHIGAN

By Associated Press

The eyes of Nebraska will be on Texas Saturday. And on Arkansas, too, even though the Cornhuskers will be occupied at Kansas State.

Texas plays at Arkansas in what could be college football's game of the year — a showdown between two nationally ranked Southwest Conference powers. The Longhorns are No. 1 in the nation, the Razorbacks No. 3.

In between is Nebraska, which has rolled over four rivals this season and should have a soft touch in Kansas State, which has been rolled over by four opponents.

Arkansas has the country's longest winning string, a 16-victory streak that includes a 14-13 decision over Texas last year that knocked the Longhorns out of the top national ranking and a 10-7 squeaker over Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl

A close game at Fayetteville could push Nebraska into No. 1. Otherwise, that rating probably will go the winner of the Longhorn-Razorback clash. Texas reports injury problems with six starters on the doubtful list, including All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis.

Michigan State has a rugged test at home in the Big Ten, against resurging Ohio State. The Spartans have shown considerable all-around talent in winning four straight, but Ohio State always is tough in conference battles. Purdue at Michigan is another significant match in the Big Ten.

Four Southeastern Conference contenders will be paired off — Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham and Kentucky at Louisiana State. Three other SEC powers, all nationally ranked, have nonconference games. Georgia is at Florida State, Mississippi State at Memphis State and Florida entertains North Carolina State

And one that will probably go a long way in determining the Pacific Athletic Conference champion will take place at Los Angeles, Stanford vs. Southern California. Stanford has a 3-0-1 record. Southern California has a 3-0-1 record and is powered by the nation's leading runner, Mike Garrett.

Colgate plays at Princton, with the Tigers favored to extend their winning string to 13 games. Penn State at Syracuse, Pitt at Navy and Rutgers at Army are other Eastern highlights.

Three of the current crop of passing wizards will be on display in Texas Western at Wyoming, Tulsa at North Texas and Houston at Miami.

Sophomore Billy Stevens has led Texas Western to four straight victories. Bill Anderson of Tulsa will be firing at the team that ranks last in pass defense among the country's 114 major college clubs. And sophomore Bill Miller is being called the new George Mira at Miami.

West Virginia, Virginia Tech, Xavier of Ohio, Utah State and West Texas State —five teams with 4-0 records —will be out to tack on added victories West Virginia plays at Virginia; Virginia Tech is at Vanderbilt; Xavier is at Ohio University; Utah State is at home against Montana, and West Texas entertains Colorado State.

—RAIDERS HOPE TO STAY ALIVE IN WESTERN RACE—

Jets Looking For 1st Win Of Season

Right now, the Raiders are the ones the New York Jets want to hurt. The two American Football League teams tangle Saturday night at Shea Stadium, with the Jets shooting for their first victory and the Raiders eager to stay alive in the Western Division race.

Powell, of course, will be a prime problem for the Jets. He's one of the league's most talented receivers, with 27 catches and five touchdowns so far this season. To cope with Powell, New York has its first-string secondary intact for the first time.

That'll be Willie West and Cornell Gordon at the cornerback posts, and Jim Hudson and Dainard Paulson as the safeties. Hudson has been out with pneumonia and Paulson with a broken wrist.

Joe Namath and George Sauer Jr. make up a rookie pass-catch combination for the Jets, who have lost four in a row. Matt Snell is the Jets' double-threat — their leading rusher with 258 yards and No. 2 receiver with 14 catches.

The remaining AFL teams play Sunday, with San Diego's Chargers meeting the winless Patriots at Boston, the Houston Oilers at Denver and the Buffalo Bills at Kansas City.

The Chargers are the league's only undefeated team with their 4-0-1 record and are solidly favored to roll their fifth victory

As a team, San Diego is first in total offense and defense and passing offense and defense, and second in rushing offense and defense. The Chargers have scored the most points, 126, and allowed the fewest, 64.

Their quarterback, John Hadl, is the AFL's leading passer and their halfback, Paul Lowe, leads the league in rushing. Flanker Lance Alworth, defensive backs Bud Whitehead and Les Duncan, and placekicker Herb Travenio all rank high in their specialists.

The Chargers reached a peak last Sunday when they knocked off previously unbeaten Buffalo, 34-3. At Boston they'll be playing a Patriot team that has lost five straight by margins of from 10 to 21 points.

Buffalo is defending AFL champion and started the season as a good bet to repeat, but the Bills have been struggling after the loss of their two best receivers, Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass The Chiefs, meanwhile, have been on the upswing, with three victories and a tie with San Diego in their last four games. KansasCity is 3-1-1, Buffalo 4-1.

Mickey Slaughter and John McCormick for the Broncos. But the key to the game may be the running of Cookie Gilchrist and rookie Wendell Hayes against Houston's vulnerable ground defense.

-SOUTH AFRICAN VS AUSTRALIAN-

Player To Meet Thomson In Match Play Showdown

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Virginia Water, England (AP) —Gary Player, U.S. Open golf champion from South Africa, and Australia's Peter Thomson, the British Open king, survived two thrilling matches Friday and reached the final of the Piccadilly World Professional Match Play tournament.

They tee off Saturday as sole survivors of the invited field of eight, for the first prize of $14,000 and the runner-up's purse of $8,400.

Thomson was 4 up on Palmer at one time and Lema 7 up on Player at the second hole of the afternoon round yet both of the 36-hole semifinals came down the stretch.

Palmer never led the quiet imperturbable Thomson. The best he managed was to be all square at the ninth in the morning and again at the 33rd in the afternoon. The American star went to lunch three down but fought back doggedly and shot an afternoon four-under-par 70 on the 6 997-yard par-74 Wentworth links

Palmer lost his greatest chance at the 556-yard par five 17th in the afternoon. One down, he hit the green in two, only 20 feet away. However, he three putted, the second from only two feet. That got him a half when he needed the win. At the 18th, he holed a 12-footer for a birdie four but Thomson two-putted for a matching birdie and the decision.

The Player-Lema match was a study in contrasts. Lema shot a seven-under-par 67 in the morning and went 6-up. He had six birdies on the back nine, five of them in a row.

Player came out after lunch to lose the first hole and go 7-down

But then he belted in four straight birdies, reached the turn in 33, kept the pace hotter than ever and birdied the 35th and 36th to square the match. On the 37th hole, his tidy four won.

Said Player:

"I don't know what to say, I really don't. Seven down with 17 to go and I won.'

ISU Freshmen Hit State College Of Iowa By 53-7

Ames, Iowa (UPI) — Captain John Warder threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third TD Thursday to lead the Iowa State freshmen team to a 53-7 victory over State College of Iowa freshmen.

Mele Discusses New Pact With Twins' President

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Sam Mele, manager of the American League champion Minnesota Twins, talked with the club president, Calvin Griffith, about a new contract Friday but said no decision was reached.

"He gave me a figure and I gave him a figure. I said I wanted to go home and think it over," said Mele, whose Twins lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers in a seven-game World Series that ended Thursday.

And one that will probably go a long way in determining the Pacific Athletic Conference champion will take place at Los Angeles, Stanford vs. Southern California. Stanford has a 3-0-1 record. Southern California has a 3-0-1 record and is powered by the nation's leading runner, Mike Garrett.

Colgate plays at Princton, with the Tigers favored to extend their winning string to 13 games. Penn State at Syracuse, Pitt at Navy and Rutgers at Army are other Eastern highlights.

Three of the current crop of passing wizards will be on display in Texas Western at Wyoming, Tulsa at North Texas and Houston at Miami.

Sophomore Billy Stevens has led Texas Western to four straight victories. Bill Anderson of Tulsa will be firing at the team that ranks last in pass defense among the country's 114 major college clubs. And sophomore Bill Miller is being called the new George Mira at Miami.

West Virginia, Virginia Tech, Xavier of Ohio, Utah State and West Texas State —five teams with 4-0 records —will be out to tack on added victories. West Virginia plays at Virginia; Virginia Tech is at Vanderbilt; Xavier is at Ohio University; Utah State is at home against Montana, and West Texas entertains Colorado State.

—RAIDERS HOPE TO STAY ALIVE IN WESTERN RACE—

Jets Looking For 1st Win Of Season

Right now, the Raiders are the ones the New York Jets want to hurt. The two American Football League teams tangle Saturday night at Shea Stadium, with the Jets shooting for their first victory and the Raiders eager to stay alive in the Western Division race.

Powell, of course, will be a prime problem for the Jets. He's one of the league's most talented receivers, with 27 catches and five touchdowns so far this season. To cope with Powell, New York has its first-string secondary intact for the first time.

That'll be Willie West and Cornell Gordon at the cornerback posts, and Jim Hudson and Dainard Paulson as the safeties. Hudson has been out with pneumonia and Paulson with a broken wrist.

Joe Namath and George Sauer Jr. make up a rookie pass-catch combination for the Jets, who have lost four in a row. Matt Snell is the Jets' double-threat — their leading rusher with 258 yards and No. 2 receiver with 14 catches.

The remaining AFL teams play Sunday, with San Diego's Chargers meeting the winless Patriots at Boston, the Houston Oilers at Denver and the Buffalo Bills at Kansas City.

The Chargers are the league's only undefeated team with their 4-0-1 record and are solidly favored to roll their fifth victory.

As a team, San Diego is first in total offense and defense and passing offense and defense, and second in rushing offense and defense. The Chargers have scored the most points, 126, and allowed the fewest, 64.

Their quarterback, John Hadl, is the AFL's leading passer and their halfback, Paul Lowe, leads the league in rushing. Flanker Lance Alworth, defensive backs Bud Whitehead and Les Duncan, and placekicker Herb Travenio all rank high in their specialists.

The Chargers reached a peak last Sunday when they knocked off previously unbeaten Buffalo, 34-3. At Boston they'll be playing a Patriot team that has lost five straight by margins of from 10 to 21 points.

Buffalo is defending AFL champion and started the season as a good bet to repeat, but the Bills have been struggling after the loss of their two best receivers, Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass. The Chiefs, meanwhile, have been on the upswing, with three victories and a tie with San Diego in their last four games. KansasCity is 3-1-1, Buffalo 4-1.

Houston and Denver are liable to shuffle around a quartet of quarterbacks—ancient George Blanda and young Don. Trull. for the. Oilers, Mickey Slaughter and John McCormick for the Broncos. But the key to the game may be the running of Cookie Gilchrist and rookie Wendell Hayes against Houston's vulnerable ground defense.

Player To Meet Thomson In Match Play Showdown

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Virginia Water, England (AP) —Gary Player, U.S. Open golf champion from South Africa, and Australia's Peter Thomson, the British Open king, survived two thrilling matches Friday and reached the final of the Piccadilly World Professional Match Play tournament.

They tee off Saturday as sole survivors of the invited field of eight, for the first prize of $14,000 and the runner-up's purse of $8,400.

Thomson was 4 up on Palmer at one time and Lema 7 up on Player at the second hole of the afternoon round yet both of the 36-hole semifinals came down the stretch.

Palmer never led the quiet, imperturbable Thomson. The best he managed was to be all square at the ninth in the morning and again at the 33rd in the afternoon. The American star went to lunch three down but fought back doggedly and shot an afternoon four-under-par 70 on the 6,997-yard par-74 Wentworth links.

Palmer lost his greatest chance at the 556-yard par five 17th in the afternoon. One down, he hit the green in two, only 20 feet away. However, he three putted, the second from only two feet. That got him a half when he needed the win. At the 18th, he holed a 12-footer for a birdie four but Thomson two-putted for a matching birdie and the decision.

The Player-Lema match was a study in contrasts. Lema shot a seven-under-par 67 in the morning and went 6-up. He had six birdies on the back nine, five of them in a row.

Player came out after lunch to lose the first hole and go 7-down.

But then he belted in four straight birdies, reached the turn in 33, kept the pace hotter than ever and birdied the 35th and 36th to square the match. On the 37th hole, his tidy four won.

Said Player:

"I don't know what to say, I really don't. Seven down with 17 to go and I won.'

ISU Freshmen Hit State College Of Iowa By 53-7

Ames, Iowa (UPI) — Captain John Warder threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third TD Thursday to lead the Iowa State freshmen team to a 53-7 victory over State College of Iowa freshmen.

Mele Discusses New Pact With Twins' President

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Sam Mele, manager of the American League champion Minnesota Twins, talked with the club president, Calvin Griffith, about a new contract Friday but said no decision was reached.

"He gave me a figure and I gave him a figure. I said I wanted to go home and think it over," said Mele, whose Twins lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers in a seven-game World Series that ended Thursday.

Donor Posts $2,000 To Get Fire Cause

An anonymous donor has posted a $2,000 reward for information leading to the apprehension of persons who set fire to construction equipment south of Lincoln earlier this week.

Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp said the person wished to remain anonymous.

Two trucks were burned and five other pieces of equipment damaged in the early morning blaze, termed by Lincoln Fire Inspector Graham L. Spahn "the work of someone who definitely had it in for the company."

Spahn said evidence at the scene indicated at least two men were involved. Initial estimates placed damage near $5,000.

Lincoln Resident Named Northeast YMCA Secretary

William Ching, Lincoln, formerly of Huron, S.D., has been hired as program secretary for the Northeast YMCA Branch, according to George W. Knight, chairman of the branch.

Ching replaces Leland Kinkade who has moved to Roswell, N.M.

The new secretary graduated from Huron College with a degree in psychology. He was a track letterman and a member of Who's Who in Colleges and Universities. Ching and his wife, Mary, arrived in Lincoln Oct. 5 and live at 5316 Ervin.

Brunswick Dispute Talks Are Stalled

Negotiators for Brunswick Corporation and the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers met for five hours this week, but failed to reach agreement.

At issue is a contractual dispute which has idled 47 union members at the plant for three weeks.

The union has termed the action a modified lock-out by the company, but management spokesmen have called it a walkout.

Union spokesman Dean Kocina said the union withdrew the union shop issue and its proposal for sick leave benefits "in an effort to get the company to move, but they refused to bargain."

Any future talks will be arranged by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Kocina said.

Donor Posts $2,000 To Get Fire Cause

An anonymous donor has posted a $2,000 reward for information leading to the apprehension of persons who set fire to construction equipment south of Lincoln earlier this week.

Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp said the person wished to remain anonymous.

Two trucks were burned and five other pieces of equipment damaged in the early morning blaze, termed by Lincoln Fire Inspector Graham L. Spahn "the work of someone who definitely had it in for the company."

Spahn said evidence at the scene indicated at least two men were involved. Initial estimates placed damage near $5,000.

Lincoln Resident Named Northeast YMCA Secretary

William Ching, Lincoln, formerly of Huron, S.D., has been hired as program secretary for the Northeast YMCA Branch, according to George W. Knight, chairman of the branch.

Ching replaces Leland Kinkade who has moved to Roswell, N.M.

The new secretary graduated from Huron College with a degree in psychology. He was a track letterman and a member of Who's Who in Colleges and Universities. Ching and his wife, Mary, arrived in Lincoln Oct. 5 and live at 5316 Ervin.

Brunswick Dispute Talks Are Stalled

Negotiators for Brunswick Corporation and the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers met for five hours this week, but failed to reach agreement.

At issue is a contractual dispute which has idled 47 union members at the plant for three weeks.

The union has termed the action a modified lock-out by the company, but management spokesmen have called it a walkout.

Union spokesman Dean Kocina said the union withdrew the union shop issue and its proposal for sick leave benefits "in an effort to get the company to move, but they refused to bargain."

Any future talks will be arranged by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Kocina said.

SDS Member Urges Good Attendance At Viet Teach-In

A University of Nebraska student and member of the Students for a Democratic Society has urged attendance at the SDS-sponsored teach-in on Viet Nam Sunday, 6 to 11 p.m. at Love Library.

"Right now, it appears there are not too many 'hawks,' said Larry Clawson, SDS vice president.

Television Pattern

Clawson said the teach-in would be patterned after the one nationally televised in Washington, D.C., March 15.

"Our primary aim is to present every point of view on Viet Nam," Clawson said, adding he hoped for participation from the floor.

Three panels of four will discuss various facets of the situation and an open discussion period will follow, he said.

"We may even call someone up from the floor if he has something to say."

Old Time Meeting

Beside airing views on Viet Nam, a secondary aim of SDS is to promote more vigorous participation in the 'old time" town meeting, Clawson added.

Panelists are expected to include Karl Shapiro, a Pulitzer Prize-winning poet; Mordecai Marcus, professor of English at NU; A. B. Winter and Willard Hogan of the political science department at NU; Steven Ross, Robert Sakai and William Maehl, history professors at NU and Nebraska Wesleyan; Victor Lane of the language department at NWU; Albert Schrekinger, sociology department at NU, and Jack Ketterdge, Chicago, a national officer and Midwest coordinator of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Stromer 'Amused' With GOP Hierarchy Going To People

State Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln said Friday that Nebraska Republican leaders who now say that there is room in the party for all elements are "talking a different game today" than they did a year ago.

"It is most amusing that, after the disastrous election of 1964, the Republican hierarchy of Nebraska would now seek to reach the people," he said.

Stromer noted that both National Committeeman Donald Ross and State Chairman Walter Witthoff opposed the open primary bill (LB164) which would allow the electorate to choose national convention delegates instead of permitting them to be named by "the closed shop of dictated choice."

Further, he said, Ross "demanded" last year that leaders of the primary write-in campaign for Richard Nixon, including Stromer himself, "go slow or he (Ross) would use his influence to prevent Nixon's appearance in Nebraska" at the National Conference of Christians and Jews dinner in May.

"If the mossbacks are now to seek the support of this state," Stromer said, "I would hope that it would come in the repudiation of the present Republican leadership."

The gubernatorial candidacy of Val Peterson and the direction of Fred Seaton "have given the Republican Party a fresh wind," he declared.

"There is a designed, close-knit group emanating from the Anderson Building which would prefer to see a defeat rather than a win unless certain Republican leaders can control and maintain influence," Stromer charged.

"I have recently met with representatives of the House Committee, and we are close to a filing," he said.

Curtis: Detaining Suspects Necessary To Law, Order

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., declared Friday law and order cannot be maintained "if we deny to our law enforcing officers the right to detain and question suspects prior to arrest and arraignment."

"Certain court decisions have denied police the right to hold, question and investigate a suspect before arrest and arraignment," Curtis explained. "The basic test as to whether a confession or statement should be received in evidence should always be: Was the statement voluntary? It should not be: Was the accused inconvenienced by the pre-arrest investigation?"

Curtis said the incidence of serious crime in the United States since 1958 has increased 48% while the population increase was 10%.

"In the last decade," Curtis said, "there have been a number of federal court decisions which, while attempting to protect the constitutional rights of the accused, have had the effect of hampering the efforts of law enforcement officials in their work of protecting society and upholding the law."

Assistant FBI Director Joseph J. Casper, another speaker at the conference, said, "We are fast approaching the highest point of the crime roller coaster, and if the mechanism is not stopped we will eventually plunge headlong into anarchic chaos."

Since 1958, he said, crime has increased six times faster than the population.

Growing disrespect for law and order and distrust of law enforcement have "not only disheartened professional police officers and sapped morale, but in many cases has effectively impeded investigation of crimes by sponsoring a lack of public cooperation."

Education Council Meets For Panel

Members of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education met here Friday for a regular meeting and heard a panel on articulation among the elementary, junior high and senior high schools.

The council of public and private state colleges meets three times a year to discuss programs of teacher preparation at the college level and conduct studies on teacher preparation and certification standards.

Cloudburst Dumps 24-Inch Rain On Southeast Florida

The record 24-hour rainfall in the United States is 38.7 inches at Yankeetown, Fla., in September 1950. The world record is 73.6 inches on the French Island of La Reunion near Madagascar in March 1952.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 8839

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 27.04.190 of the Lincoln Municipal Code defining floor area, and Sections 27.20.030, 27.20.040, 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code relating to parking, height and area regulations in the "E" Multiple Dwelling Districts; and repealing said Sections 27.04.190, 27.20.030, 27.20.040, and 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 27.04.190 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows;

"27.04.190. FLOOR AREA. The total number of square feet of floor space within the exterior walls of a building, not including storage space in cellars or basements and not including space used for the parking of automobiles."

Section 2. That Section 27.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"27.20.030. PARKING REGULATIONS. Where a lot is occupied by a multiple dwelling or an apartment hotel, there shall be provided one parking space on the lot for each dwelling unit. Where a lot is occupied by a fraternity, there shall be provided one parking space on the lot or within twelve hundred (1200) feet thereof, for every seven hundred (700) square foot of floor area, not including storage areas in the basement or attic; and where a lot is occupied by a sorority or rooming or boarding house, there shall be provided one parking space on the lot or within twelve hundred (1200) feet thereof for each eleven hundred (1100) square feet of floor area, not including storage areas in the basement or attic."

Section 3. That Section 27.20.040 of the Lincoln Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"27.20.040. HEIGHT REGULATIONS. No building shall exceed four (4) stories nor forty-five (45) feet in height ,except a building may be constructed to a height of ninety (90)feet or eight (8) stories, provided all yard requirements are increased one (1) foot for each two (2) additional feet the building exceeds forty-five (45) feet in height, and except as provided in Chapters 27.40 and 27.42."

Section 4 .That Section 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"27.20.050. AREA REGULATIONS.

1. Front Yard. The front yard regulations are the same as those in the "C" Four-Family Dwelling District.

2. Side Yard. There shall be a side yard on both sides of a building; for buildings not exceeding two and one-half (2½) so tries, the width of such yards shall not be less than five (5) feet on each side of the building; for buildings three stories in height the width of such yards shall be not less than seven and one-half (7½)feet: and for buildings exceeding three (3) stories in height and additional two and one-half (2½) feet shall be added to the required side yard for each story in excess of three (3)

3. Rear Yard: The rear yard regulations are the same as those in the "A-2" Single-Family Dwelling District.

4. Intensity of Use: The intensity of use regulations shall be the same as those in the "D" Multiple Dwelling District, except that where a lot is occupied by a multiple dwelling or an apartment hotel there shall not be less than two-thirds (2-3) of a square foot of lot area for each square foot of floor area in the building; provided that for each square foot of lot area within the required yard lines that is not built upon, six (6) square feet of additional floor area within the building may be added to the total otherwise permitted."

Section 5. That Sections 27.04.190, 27.20.030, 27.20.040, and 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, as hitherto existing, be and they are hereby repealed.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

SDS Member Urges Good Attendance At Viet Teach-In

A University of Nebraska student and member of the Students for a Democratic Society has urged attendance at the SDS-sponsored teach-in on Viet Nam Sunday, 6 to 11 p.m. at Love Library.

"Right now, it appears there are not too many 'hawks,' said Larry Clawson, SDS vice president.

Television Pattern

Clawson said the teach-in would be patterned after the one nationally televised in Washington, D.C., March 15.

"Our primary aim is to present every point of view on Viet Nam," Clawson said, adding he hoped for participation from the floor.

Three panels of four will discuss various facets of the situation and an open discussion period will follow, he said.

"We may even call someone up from the floor if he has something to say."

Old Time Meeting

Beside airing views on Viet Nam, a secondary aim of SDS is to promote more vigorous participation in the "old time" town meeting, Clawson added.

Panelists are expected to include Karl Shapiro, a Pulitzer Prize-winning poet; Mordecai Marcus, professor of English at NU; A. B. Winter and Willard Hogan of the political science department at NU; Steven Ross, Robert Sakai and William Maehl, history professors at NU and Nebraska Wesleyan; Victor Lane of the language department at NWU; Albert Schrekinger, sociology department at NU, and Jack Ketterdge, Chicago, a national officer and Midwest coordinator of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Stromer 'Amused' With GOP Hierarchy Going To People

State Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln said Friday that Nebraska Republican leaders who now say that there is room in the party for all elements are "talking a different game today" than they did a year ago.

"It is most amusing that, after the disastrous election of 1964, the Republican hierarchy of Nebraska would now seek to reach the people," he said.

Stromer noted that both National Committeeman Donald Ross and State Chairman Walter Witthoff opposed the open primary bill (LB164) which would allow the electorate to choose national convention delegates instead of permitting them to be named by "the closed shop of dictated choice."

Further, he said, Ross "demanded" last year that leaders of the primary write-in campaign for Richard Nixon, including Stromer himself, "go slow or he (Ross) would use his influence to prevent Nixon's appearance in Nebraska" at the National Conference of Christians and Jews dinner in May.

"If the mossbacks are now to seek the support of this state," Stromer said, "I would hope that it would come in the repudiation of the present Republican leadership."

The gubernatorial candidacy of Val Peterson and the direction of Fred Seaton "have given the Republican Party a fresh wind," he declared.

"There is a designed, close-knit group emanating from the Anderson Building which would prefer to see a defeat rather than a win unless certain Republican leaders can control and maintain influence," Stromer charged.

"The Republican Party has been kicked in the shins by defeat and by hierarchical domination."

Stromer hinted that he may be a congressional candidate next year.

"I have recently met with representatives of the House Committee, and we are close to a filing," he said.

Curtis: Detaining Suspects Necessary To Law, Order

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., declared Friday law and order cannot be maintained "if we deny to our law enforcing officers the right to detain and question suspects prior to arrest and arraignment."

"Certain court decisions have denied police the right to hold, question and investigate a suspect before arrest and arraignment," Curtis explained. "The basic test as to whether a confession or statement should be received in evidence should always be: Was the statement voluntary? It should not be: Was the accused inconvenienced by the pre-arrest investigation?"

Curtis said the incidence of serious crime in the United States since 1958 has increased 48% while the population increase was 10%.

"In the last decade," Curtis said, "there have been a number of federal court decisions which, while attempting to protect the constitutional rights of the accused, have had the effect of hampering the efforts of law enforcement officials in their work of protecting society and upholding the law."

Curtis's remarks were prepared for a midwestern conference of college and university debaters at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Assistant FBI Director Joseph J. Casper, another speaker at the conference, said, "We are fast approaching the highest point of the crime roller coaster, and if the mechanism is not stopped we will eventually plunge headlong into anarchic chaos."

Since 1958, he said, crime has increased six times faster than the population.

Growing disrespect for law and order and distrust of law enforcement have "not only disheartened professional police officers and sapped morale, but in many cases has effectively impeded investigation of crimes by sponsoring a lack of public cooperation."

Education Council Meets For Panel

Members of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education met here Friday for a regular meeting and heard a panel on articulation among the elementary, junior high and senior high schools.

The council of public and private state colleges meets three times a year to discuss programs of teacher preparation at the college level and conduct studies on teacher preparation and certification standards.

Cloudburst Dumps 24-Inch Rain On Southeast Florida

The greatest downpour in living memory dumped 24.43 inches on Fort Lauderdale in 24 hours. Pompano Beach was soaked with 23.33 inches.

Miami International Airport got 4.52 inches and South Miami a record 4.76 before the heavy cloud cover moved northeastward over the Atlantic.

The 24.43 inches at Fort Lauderdale broke the previous record of 4.90 inches for a 24-hour period and the October record of 17.25 inches.

The record 24-hour rainfall in the United States is 38.7 inches at Yankeetown, Fla., in September 1950. The world record is 73.6 inches on the French Island of La Reunion near Madagascar in March 1952.

Lincoln Stewardess Is On Lightning-Hit Plane

Salt Lake City (UPI) — Stewardess Celia Owens of Lincoln was one of 18 persons aboard a Frontier Air Lines prop-jet struck by lightning Friday. The plane landed safely with a damaged tail section.

The plane, on the first leg of a flight to El Paso, Tex., had a four foot piece off the tail section. The lightning bolt also left a hole in the Salt Lake runway.

None of the 15 passengers or three crew members was injured.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 8839

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 27.04.190 of the Lincoln Municipal Code defining floor area, and Sections 27.20.030, 27.20.040, 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code relating to parking, height and area regulations in the "E" Multiple Dwelling Districts; and repealing said Sections 27.04.190, 27.20.030, 27.20.040, and 27.20.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 27.04.190 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows;

"27.04.190. FLOOR AREA. The total number of square feet of floor space within the exterior walls of a building, not including storage space in cellars or basements and not including space used for the parking of automobiles."

Section 2. That Section 27.20.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"27.20.030. PARKING REGULATIONS. Where a lot is occupied by a multiple dwelling or an apartment hotel, there shall be provided one parking space on the lot for each dwelling unit. Stock Mart Recovery Is Spotty

Trading was 7.48 million shares, compared with 8.6 million Thursday.

It was the first gain in the Dow Jones industrial average since Monday when it and other averages climbed to historic highs. The Dow advanced 1.18 to 940.68 —somewhat below Monday's record closing peak of 942.65.

Because of the mildness of the "correction" of the past few days, the smallish advance was enough to push other indicators to new records.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.4 to a peak of 349.0, with industrials up 1.8 to a record high, rails up 1.9 to a record high and utilities off .1.

The AP rails as well as the rail component of the Dow Jones average advanced to records. Once again, this reflected scattered strength. New York Central rose 1¾, Pennsylvania Railroad 1⅝ and Illinois Central 1½.

Of 1,392 issues traded, 616 advanced and 491 declined. New highs for the year totaled 95 and new lows 15.

The move to the upside was not accompanied by any new element of bullish news.

Ten of the 15 most-active stocks rose. The volume leader, Korvette, advanced ⅜ to 33¼ on 176,000 shares.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 3.11 million shares compared with 3.28 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds were unchanged. U.S. Treasury Bonds were lower.

Most Grains Are Steady

Chicago (AP)—Most grain futures prices held steady or scored fractional gains on the Board of Trade Friday but late selling nullified early firmness in soybeans.

Early strength in corn and soybeans was caused by buying attributed to scattered rains and the prediction for more in the main crop belt. Rains could delay further the combining of soybeans and the corn harvest, both currently running behind schedule.

At the close, wheat was ¼ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher, December $1.58⅝-¾; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December $1.14⅞; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, December 66¾ cents; rye lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.22¾, and soybeans ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, November $2.46-45⅞.

Feeder Prices Continue Uneven; Omaha Is Higher

Omaha (UPI) — Feeder cattle prices were again uneven this week, the National Livestock Feeders Association reported Friday. The association said most reports were steady to lower, but Fort Worth and Omaha were mostly steady to .50 higher and other markets varied from one dollar higher to one dollar lower on certain classes.

River markets: Price ranges at Kansas City mostly 1.00-2.00 lower than other two markets. Calf numbers continued limited ... choice steer calves Kansas City 21.50-27.50 and up to 28.00 at Omaha and Sioux City, choice and prime kinds to [illegible]. Good demand continued ... heavier steers and prices paid about the same ranges as for lighter weights in an 600lb up. Steers 600-900 lbs. choice and prime Sioux City-Omaha 26.25-27.50, latter price for light weights, choice 3 markets 23.25-26.50, good and choice [illegible].00-24.75, with good at Kansas City down to 21.25. Heifers 500-750 lbs choice [illegible].50-28.00, good at Sioux City down to [illegible].00.

Stock Mart Recovery Is Spotty

Trading was 7.48 million shares, compared with 8.6 million Thursday.

It was the first gain in the Dow Jones industrial average since Monday when it and other averages climbed to historic highs. The Dow advanced 3.18 to 940.68 —somewhat below Monday's record closing peak of 942.65.

Because of the mildness of the "correction" of the past few days, the smallish advance was enough to push other indicators to new records.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.4 to a peak of 349.0, with industrials up 1.8 to a record high, rails up 1.9 to a record high and utilities off .1.

The AP rails as well as the rail component of the Dow Jones average advanced to records. Once again, this reflected scattered strength. New York Central rose 1¾, Pennsylvania Railroad 1⅝ and Illinois Central 1½.

Of 1,392 issues traded, 616 advanced and 491 declined. New highs for the year totaled 95 and new lows 15.

The move to the upside was not accompanied by any new element of bullish news.

Ten of the 15 most-active stocks rose. The volume leader, Korvette, advanced ⅝ to 33¼ on 176,000 shares.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 3.11 million shares compared with 3.28 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds were unchanged. U.S. Treasury Bonds were lower.

Most Grains Are Steady

Chicago (AP)—Most grain futures prices held steady or scored fractional gains on the Board of Trade Friday but late selling nullified early firmness in soybeans.

Early strength in corn and soybeans was caused by buying attributed to scattered rains and the prediction for more in the main crop belt. Rains could delay further the combining of soybeans and the corn harvest, both currently running behind schedule.

At the close, wheat was ¼ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher, December $1.58⅝-¾; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December $1.14⅞; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, December 66¾ cents; rye ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.22¾, and soybeans ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, November $2.46-45⅞.

Feeder Prices Continue Uneven; Omaha Is Higher

Omaha (UPI) — Feeder cattle prices were again uneven this week, the National Livestock Feeders Association reported Friday. The association said most reports were steady to lower, but Fort Worth and Omaha were mostly steady to .50 higher and other markets varied from one dollar higher to one dollar lower on certain classes.

River markets: Price ranges at Kansas City mostly 1.00-2.00 lower than other two markets. Calf numbers continued limited — choice steer calves Kansas City 24.50-27.50 and up to 28.00 at Omaha and Sioux City; choice and prime kinds to 30.25. Good demand continues for heavier steers and prices paid about the same ranges as for lighter weights from 600lbs. up. Steers 500-900 lbs., choice and prime Sioux City-Omaha 26.25-27.50, latter price for light weights; choice 3 markets 23.25-26.50; good and choice 22.00-24.75, with good at Kansas City down to 21.25. Heifers 500-750 lbs. choice 22.50-23.00, good at Sioux City down to 18.00.

ABSOLUTELY

You get exactly what you pay for in a key board instrument. That's why you can find a LOWER price (with accompanying lower quality) elsewhere; but, IF you are interested in optimum quality and service in an organ or piano KIMBALL is the ONLY answer. So if you are interested in quality, beauty and service—stop in and see us. We would love to have you. 17c

WEDGEWOOD

Here we go—A new listing that is priced to the penny. This is as clean a brick 3 bedroom home as you will ever find. Full divided basement—No water—Central air—single attached garage and full fenced back yard. Just 3 years old. The living room, dining area and hall are beautifully carpeted. The covered patio off of the living room affords some real nice summer time living. 3 nice sized bedrooms with shiny oak floors and a big bath complete this unusually nice home. Call me for full details. Chuck Stuart, Home—423-6126, Office—432-0343 22c

ANNOUNCEMENT

Our long term lease on the "Clean Car Center" auto sales lot is expiring. The decision was made not to renew the lease. As many of you know our stock was mostly one owner extra clean cars. Many of these new car trade-ins were purchased from Mercer Ford Sales, Hickman, Nebraska. With the closing of the Auto Mart, our clean car inventory was sold to Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman for their expanding used car sales activity.

An agreement was made with Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman to handle all parts and service requirements under warranty agreements issued on used cars sold by us at the Auto Mart.

The many friends of James Dakan can now find him at Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman. We wish him well in his new sales position. We're sure you who are friends and customers can continue to depend on him for your transportation needs whether they be new or used.

We wish every success to Glenn Maxson owner of Glenn's Auto Sales who now operating at our past location.

Our kindest thanks go out to the literally thousands of customers who chose to do business with us during the last six years. We thank you kindly.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Our long term lease on the "Clean Car Center" auto sales lot is expiring. The decision was made not to renew the lease. As many of you know our stock was mostly one owner extra clean cars. Many of these new car trade-ins were purchased from Mercer Ford Sales, Hickman, Nebraska. With the closing of the Auto Mart, our clean car inventory was sold to Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman for their expanding used car sales activity.

An agreement was made with Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman to handle all parts and service requirements under warranty agreements issued on used cars sold by us at the Auto Mart.

The many frineds of James Dakan can now find him at Mercer Ford Sales in Hickman. We wish him well in his new sales position. We're sure you who are friends and customers can continue to depend on him for your transportation needs whether they be new or used.

We wish every siuccess to Glenn Maxson owner of Glenn's Auto Sales who is now operating at our past location.

Our kindest thanks go out to the literally thousands of customers who chose to do business with us during the last six years. We thank you kindly.
